CURRENT COMMENT

By Chester H. Rowell

THE writer has just had the interesting experience of participating in a public debate with Senator Borah, in Borah's own state, on his pet subject of the world court. If you have ever boxed Dempsey, you know what this is like.

However, 'thrice is he armed who hath his quarrel just." And those of us who happen to agree on this subject with Presidents McKinley, Roosevelt, Taft, Wilson, Harding and Coolidge; with all the platforms of all the parties in this century; with nine-tenths of congress; with capital and labor, the United States Chamber of Commerce and the American Federation of Labor; with the organized expression of religious and educational bodies, women's clubs and farm organizations, and with the action of nearly all the governments in the world, are not under any sense of humbleness, even if a small handful of United States senators, including one or two of the ablest, choose to take the other side. If we are mistaken, so are most of the human race.

SENATOR Borah himself is "for" a world court. All he wants is that it meet conditions which he agrees are impossible, and some of which are impossible because he and his associates will not let them be fulfilled.

He wants a world code of laws, which could only be enacted by precisely the sort of world legislature whose chief opponent he would be, and an outlawing of war which can only be enforced by precisely the sort of sanctions to which he would never consent. He wants a leagueless world court in a world most of which is joined in the league.

Whenever these and several other conditions are fulfilled—and he is in the place of power, to see to it that they never are—then, unless he can meantime devise some other objections, the doughty senator may consent to our going into the court which we founded and which the rest of the world has accepted from us. In other words: Never!

THIS is a big country, and the west is of a business beyond all eastern imagination. You leave San Diego, in Southern California, and, in about the time it takes to go across five states from New York to Washington, you arrive in Los Angeles, still in Southern California. You leave Los Angeles, and after a journey half as long as from New York to Chicago, arrive in San Francisco, still in Central California.

On the fastest train, you then travel all night and most of the next day through Northern California. Then the rest of the day and part of the night across Oregon, to Portland. Then all night and most of the next day still across Oregon and a corner of Washington, and in the afternoon you cross the Snake river to Lewiston, the first town in Idaho.

Really to see Idaho, you would have to journey still another day across it. And all this on fast trains, with close connections.

THE first eastern states were made horseback size. Later ones were stage coach size. The great west is railroad size. And the world is growing airplane small. It is a dizzy time. Go west, old fogy, and learn how big your country is.

But, across the great expanse of this matchless land, you see one thing that you can see nowhere else in the world. That is a hundred million people, stretching from ocean to ocean, all speaking the same language and living, feeling and thinking in much the same fashion.

The high school faculties of Lewiston, Maine, and Lewiston, Idaho, could exchange places and go on the next day teaching the same things to pupils of the same previous training and coming from the sam sort of homes.

A man from more than a thousand miles away could go to Idaho and speak on the same platform, in argument with Idaho's favorite son, and not feel himself a stranger. There is nowhere else on earth where such things are possible. We are no more "standardized" than some other peoples, but we have done it on an enormously wider scale.

NOT a paper knowledge of lawyers' analysis of the paper constitution, but a living appreciation of the human institutions that make this greatest of human families possible, should be the "study of the Constitution" and the "Americanization" which it is popular to prescribe for our growing and our imported generations.

For these are our constitution; the charter of our life; the meaning and value even of the written Constitution. In and by these, we live. And, looking on them, we find them exceedingly good. Our fathers wrote a great document. We have inherited and builded a greater life. Both are the Constitution.

3000 DROWN IN CHINESE FLOODS

Vacation Ends; City Schools Are Opened

INCREASE IN ENROLLMENT IS FORECAST

Superintendent Cranston Is Of Belief That There Will Be No Half-day Sessions

MANY NEW TEACHERS

Over 200 Instructors Have Been Employed Including Two Nurses for District

VACATION days for boys and girls of the city schools came to an end this morning when nearly 5000 students, of all grades, entered spacious, modern institutions of learning for the formal opening of the 1925-26 school year.

The city's 14 schools, some of them altered and enlarged to meet requirements, were ready for use as the pupils began to fill up the class rooms. Because of the fact that arrangements had been made to provide ample accommodations for each pupil, there was no confusion, and before the bells sounded the end of the first morning period, the work in all departments was well under way.

Supt. J. A. Cranston asserted this morning that provisions have been made to take care of an estimated maximum enrollment, hence there will be no need for half-day sessions or crowded class rooms.

The attendance in the schools this year shows a slight increase over any enrollment in previous years, it was stated at the board of education offices. This increase is found in an appreciable influx of new students, especially noticeable in the upper grades, beginning with those in the junior high school.

Just what to predict in way of increased enrollment is not an easy matter, it was explained by the different school principals. Vacant houses seem to be filling up, and it is understood from inquiries received at local banks and business institutions that many out-of-state arrivals are coming to Santa Ana to gain the advantages of its wholesome community life and excellent educational facilities.

A total of 232 teachers, many of them holding master's degree and other university credentials beyond requirements, and comparing favorably in matter of professional preparation and experience with those employed in the large city districts, has been employed for supervisorial, departmental and class room work. Their distribution follows: Junior college and high school, 60; junior high schools and elementary schools, 158; special work, 14.

In addition to these teachers, the school district has employed two specially trained school nurses, who will work in co-operation with the county health department.

There has been a considerable turnover of teachers since the closing of school last June, necessitating the employment of 48 new teachers. This turnover was caused, partly by granting leaves of absence to several teachers who needed an extended rest to build up their health, and partly from resignations.

Several new courses have been added to the curriculum of the junior college. A course of surveying has been arranged for students who, desiring to follow the engineering profession, plan to go on to some recognized engineering college where knowledge of surveying is one of the entrance requirements. A series of practical commercial subjects has been added to the courses of the college.

Printing and salesmanship have been added to the courses of the high school. The former will be given in a newly-installed print shop, furnished with modern equipment under the supervision of a competent craftsman.

There will be no change in the study program of the junior high

100 Bedouins Ambush Auto Caravan

LONDON, Sept. 14.—One hundred Bedouins on camels ambushed an 11-auto caravan with 60 passengers, including A. C. Millspaugh, Persia's American financial adviser, in a valley 90 miles east of Damascus, according to a Haifa dispatch to the Times today.

MAN AND WIFE ARE MURDERED; BODIES BURNED

(By United Press)

MADISON, Ill., Sept. 14.—Authorities here today announced that the charred bodies found in an expensive motor car near Collinsville, Sunday, were those of Mr. and Mrs. John Dorsey, proprietors of a well known fishing resort just outside the city.

The two had been murdered, their skulls crushed by heavy blows, and their expensive motor car ignited.

Dorsey, who is also known as Gray, recently was arrested by the county prosecutor and sheriff when caught with a load of alleged beer.

BITTER NEW YORK CAMPAIGN CLOSING

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—As the hardest fought primary campaign in the city's history drew to its end today, elaborate police arrangements were prepared to prevent fraud at the polls tomorrow. A general shift of police captains was ordered and 50 additional patrolmen were assigned to each Manhattan precinct, with similar increases in the other boroughs.

The final burst of oratory in the Democratic campaign, which has absorbed most of the interest because of the personal bitterness engendered between Gov. Al Smith and W. R. Hearst, publisher, is set for tonight, with both State Senator "Jimmy" Walker and Mayor John F. Hylan scheduled to make four speeches. Governor Smith will address one meeting in behalf of Walker, his Tammany associate and friend.

The two Democrats and the three Republicans, Frank D. Waterman, John J. Lyons and Williams Bennett, each claimed victory by wide margins today.

Seasoned political observers, however, were inclined to award the Democratic nomination to Walker and the Republican to Waterman.

That Walker and Waterman will emerge victorious is the belief in Wall street, where odds of 5 to 1 and 7 to 1 are quoted on their chances.

NAB BIG NEGRO AS MIDNIGHT TERROR

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 14.—Six victims of Nashville's "midnight marauder" have identified Henry Horn, gigantic negro, as the mysterious prowler who had entered homes, attacked women and slit the throats of their husbands in a series of outrages that began here four weeks ago.

The police of North Nashville claim they have put an end to the reign of nocturnal terror spread by the marauder, who wore a mask and an armored vest, and who was so powerful and fleet that he eluded capture, even when a cordon of detective surrounded the scene of his depredations.

Horn, brought down with a bullet in the thigh, was caught after attempting to enter several homes. He denied he was the notorious marauder.

EXPECT NAVY AND ARMY TO BE CLEARED

Coolidge's Inquiry Board Probably Will Exonerate Two Departments

WILL MEET THURSDAY

Wilbur Appoints Court to Officially Probe Wreck Of Dirigible Shenandoah

WASHINGTON, D.C., Sept. 14.—The aircraft investigating board appointed by President Coolidge is expected to exonerate the war and navy departments of charges of incompetence and negligence and to recommend a compromise solution of the demand for greater independence of the air services.

The nine men called to meet the president here next Thursday are persons of conservative judgment, unlikely to suggest radical changes in the policies of the army and navy, as demanded by Col. William Mitchell, officials pointed out today.

Officers of the army and navy today prepared data for submission to the board, intended to justify present administration policies. President Coolidge appointed the board on Saturday.

May Summon Mitchell

Colonel Mitchell probably will be summoned before President Coolidge's special board of aircraft inquiry to testify regarding his charges of incompetency, it was said authoritatively here today.

The same high government authority expressed the opinion that the court-martial would assume a minor aspect and that Mitchell's participation in any changes or improvements in the flying service would be slight.

Names Shenandoah Board

Secretary of the Navy Wilbur today announced the personnel of the court of inquiry which is to investigate the Shenandoah disaster. The board will meet at Lakehurst as soon as possible, probably this week, it was announced. It consists of:

Rear Adm. Hilary P. Jones, senior member of the general board of the navy, who will act as president of the court

Capt. Paul Foley, technician aide to Secretary Wilbur, of the naval experimental laboratory here, who will act as judge advocate of the court.

Capt. Frank H. Clark, Wilbur's aide for navy yards.

Capt. Lewis B. McBride, naval construction corps.

Com. John K. Towers, naval aviator and commander of the trans-Atlantic flight.

Lt. Com. Ralph C. Pomeroy, who inspected the rigid airship construction in Germany, including that of the Los Angeles, and served in England, during construction of the R-38 and ZR-2.

Lt. Com. M. R. Pierce, who will act as adviser to the judge advocate. Pierce is a lighter-than-air pilot and familiar with the Shenandoah construction.

MITCHELL HOPES HE WILL BE CALLED

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Sept. 14.—Col. William Mitchell expressed the hope today that he would be called to testify at the inquiry to be conducted by the aircraft board appropriated by President Coolidge.

"I have knowledge of certain facts in which I feel certain members of the aircraft board would be interested,' he said. "Unless this body calls in a person who can perceive affects in the present administration of the air service, it will be impossible for the body to study thoroughly the major problems assigned to it by the president.

Col. Mitchell has added to his trophies the scalp of a large coyote, slain during a chase arranged for him during the week end.

Refusing to reply to Rear Adm. William A. Moffett's denial of his charges against aircraft inefficiency, Col. Mitchell today said "talk is cheap."

"I have no statement to make," declared Mitchell. "The investigation machinery is beginning to work and I am satisfied. Talk is cheap."

France-To-India Aviators Forced Down; One Killed

PARIS, Sept. 14.—Two hours after they had set forth from Paris on what was to have been a world record breaking non-stop flight of 4100 kilometers to India, Robert Thierry and D. Costes, French war aces, were forced down in a fog above the Black Forest of Germany. Thierry was killed and his companion was badly injured.

Oldest Mason In U. S. Dies At Age of 107

BRECKENRIDGE, Mo., Sept. 14.—Dr. Joseph Singer Halstead, 107 years old, said to be the oldest Mason in the United States, died in his home here last midnight. He had been ill for several weeks.

LEGION FORCES IN ADVANCE ON CATALINA ISLE

(By United Press)

AVALON, Catalina Island, Sept. 14.—In boats and seaplanes, the advance hordes of Legionnaires arrived here today for the seventh annual state convention of the American Legion.

Early arrivals included delegations from San Francisco, Susanville, Stockton, Santa Rosa and the Imperial valley.

The Forty and Eight, and the American Legion auxiliary poured into the island also. They will hold their annual conferences in conjunction with the Legion convention, making approximately 5000 visitors on the island.

The air buzzed with politics preliminary to the formal opening of the convention tomorrow. Four candidates are in the field for the office of state commander, as follows:

Harold Ferguson, Hollywood; Allen Bixby, Pasadena; Philip F. Dodson, South Pasadena, and Leonard Wilson, Burbank.

The Susanville delegates, clad as lumberjacks, arrived early and laid plans to capture the 1926 convention. They have $10,000 cash to offer for entertainment of the next gathering.

Wisconsin Will Hold Primary On U. S. Senator

MADISON, Wis., Sept. 14.—Voters of Wisconsin will go to the senatorial primaries tomorrow to decide whether the La Follette regime is to give way to the policies of President Coolidge.

While the Democrats also are to select a candidate, chief interest centers on the Republican selection.

Robert M. La Follette jr., Progressive; Francis E. McGovern, former Progressive-Republican governor of the state; Roy P. Wilcox, nominee of the 'regular" Republicans; Arthur H. Barry, Republican, with a "wet plank," and Daniel Woodward, Republican, who has the indorsement of the K. K. K. Wilcox, Barry and Woodward are "straight" Coolidge Republicans.

The campaign has been comparatively tame.

Union Chief and Governor Confer

MILFORD, Pa., Sept. 14.—John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, today conferred with Governor Pinchot here in the second of the governor's confidential conferences regarding settlement of the coal strike.

Neither the miner chief, who is directing the strike of 150,000 anthracite miners nor the governor would comment on the meeting.

150 Men Tar and Feather Women

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Sept. 14.—Police today sought members of a mob of 150 men who last night tarred and feathered two young white women, following their escape from the city prison farm, where they were serving a 30-day sentence in a disorderly conduct charge.

NEW HOP TO HAWAII PLAN OF AVIATORS

Flight Hinges on Weather, Condition of Plane and Availability of Warships

WANTS NO NEW POST

Rodgers Not Desirous of Transfer from Airplane Sea Duty to Shore Job

(By United Press)

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 14. — Flight of the PB-1 navy seaplane to Hawaii from San Francisco now depends upon three factors—weather, condition of the plane and availability of vessels for patrol—following receipt at naval headquarters here today of new instructions from the navy department at Washington.

"New tests of the PB-1 cannot be held before Wednesday or Thursday and the flight may take place within two weeks, or it may not start for six months," Lieutenant Wead, aide to Capt. Stanford E. Moses, flight project commander, told the United Press.

The message received by Moses from Admiral Eberle, chief of operations, read as follows:

"Your recommendation approved in postponing of PB-1 flight until weather conditions are more favorable and endurance tests are satisfactory. Time for flight will depend on availability of vessels for patrol."

It previously had been stated at navy headquarters that no flight of the PB-1 was being considered until after September 21, following the expected equinoxial storms.

RODGERS DOES NOT DESIRE NEW JOB

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—Com. John Rodgers, of the PN9-1, today notified Secretary of the Navy Wilbur that he would prefer to remain on sea duty with airplanes, rather than accept the post as assistant chief of the navy bureau of aeronautics, to which Wilbur appointed him last Friday.

In a radio message from Honolulu, Rodgers told Wilbur he appreciated the honor of the appointment, but said he would prefer to stay with the seaplane forces "unless in your opinion my services will be more valuable in the department."

Wilbur declined to comment upon Rodgers' preference or to say whether he would appoint any one else.

RODGERS AND CREW STILL RECUPERATING

HONOLULU, T. H., Sept. 14.—Zealously guarded by physicians and friends, Com. John Rodgers and his mates of the seaplane PN9-1 today continued to recuperate from their experiences during 218 hours adrift at sea.

Apparently suffering no ill effects from the strain of the public demonstration Saturday afternoon, the airmen rested at the homes of officer friends. They spent last night at the Pearl Harbor hospital, where physicians pronounced them "almost normal."

Honolulu plans another honor tomorrow, when civic and military leaders are to give a roof garden luncheon for the airmen.

Commander Rodgers is to leave for the mainland Friday, aboard the U. S. S. California. It is not known here which port the vessel will head for, although San Francisco in several long messages to Adm. S. S. Robison has urged that all the party be returned here, from which port they started their trans-Pacific hop.

Whether Commander Rodgers' four mates will sail with him, was uncertain last night.

Body May Be That of Dutch Anderson

DUBUQUE, Ia., Sept. 14.—Authorities today were hopeful of identifying the body of a man, found here last week, as that of George "Dutch" Anderson, gunman companion of Gerald Chapman, and wanted for the revenge murder of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Hance, near Muncie, Ind.

BOY SLAIN IN DUEL BY RIVAL FOR FARM GIRL

(By United Press)

SALLISAW, Okla., Sept. 14.—Stirred by the singular slaying of Lonnie Whitney, 17, in a duel with Walter Daugherty, 16, last Saturday, this town and the country around about were "talking" today, and the two boy friends, "seconds," were in jail charged with murder along with young Daugherty.

The two witnesses arrested, Phil Roork and Leon Farris, both 20, were alleged to have loaned the duelists their weapons—two jackknives.

Funeral services were held today for young Whitney, son of a wealthy farmer.

The four boys had been friends until a short time ago when, according to neighbors, Whitney "beat young Daugherty's time" with a neighbor farmer's daughter.

One night last week, the four boys were said to have met at a country church, where a bitter argument took place between Whitney and Daugherty.

Saturday, the boys met in a secluded place on the countryside, near here. Choosing knives as weapons, the two boys stood back to back and when the order was given, walked 10 paces apart.

A desperate struggle ensued, each vieing for an advantageous position from which to wield his knife.

An opening finally came and Daugherty plunged his knife into Whitney's breast, piercing his heart. Whitney fell, mortally wounded, dying in less than a minute.

After the fatal duel, the two "seconds" hastened to summon aid, while the winner went to his father's farm to do his evening chores.

AIRMAN AND GIRL KILLED IN CRASH

AURORA, Ill., Sept. 14.—An inquest was ordered today into the deaths of Lt. Clarence E. Workman, 29, and Miss Rose Podlesak, both of Chicago, who were hurtled to the ground when Workman's airplane dropped from a height of 200 feet near here yesterday. The fatal crash, which is believed to have been caused by Workman's attempt to bank the plane before he had reached sufficient altitude, was witnessed by George E. Sabat, owner of the plane and fiance of Miss Podlesak.

Seek Bandits for Hospital Robbery

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 14.—Police today were searching for two bandits who held up and robbed the Good Samaritan hospital of $550 in cash and a large amount of jewelry. The two well dressed men backed L. K. Brown, the manager, into a closet and rifled the safe. The jewelry was property of patients in the hospital.

RIVER GOES ON RAMPAGE: DIKES BREAK

One Thousand Villages in Shantung Province Are Swept by Rising Stream

WATER 50 FEET DEEP.

Vast Area Inundated As Frantic Efforts of Workers to Stem Tide Fails

(By United Press)

LONDON, Sept. 14.—The Tientsin correspondent of the Central News reported today that great floods of the Yellow river, sweeping away dikes, had inundated 1000 villages in the Show Chang district of Shantung province.

Inhabitants of the villages worked frantically for hours to strengthen the dikes, but during the night the dikes crumbled away, pouring an overwhelming flood over a vast area.

At some points, the water was said to be 50 feet high, while villages for 50 miles around were inundated.

The dispatch estimated that 3000 had been drowned.

DRY AGENT HELD ON DRUNK CHARGE

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 14.—Lucien Allred, federal prohibition agent, was under arrest here today, charged with drunkenness and assault with a deadly weapon, as result of a raid Allred and four companions made on a cafe. Charges against Allred were filed by Andrew Gallagher, former supervisor, when, it was alleged, the dry agent thrust a weapon against him because he protested actions of the raiders.

Slays Ex-Wife, Then Kills Self

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 14.—With a bullet wound through his temple, the body of John Govaer, 44, who yesterday shot and killed his divorced wife, Hazel Young Govaer, today was found in a clump of bushes in Golden Gate park.

Govaer had evidently committed suicide, investigating officers said.

Discovery of the body ended a man hunt which started when Govaer accosted his former wife at noon yesterday, walking in the park with Harry Jacobs.

"I've told yau that I would kill you if I saw you with another man and now I'm going to do it," Govaer shouted. But first he dropped Jacobs with a bullet through the abdomen. Then he killed Mrs. Govaer and fled into the underbrush.

Officer Dodges Three Bullets; Kills Assailant

ARCADIA, Calif., Sept. 14.—F. W. Allenbaugh, 55, known as "Hamburger Doc," because he operated a small lunch stand here, was shot and killed Sunday by Motorcycle Officer G. B. Pardue.

Police reports indicated Allenbaugh was engaged in a fight with A. C. Fischer, of Los Angeles, when Officer Pardue intervened.

Allenbaugh resented Pardue's interference and fired three shots at the officer. Pardue, returning the fire, killed Allenbaugh. Pardue was not injured.

10 Arrested for Huge Mail Theft

BUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 14.—Ten railway mail porters, arrested for parcel post thefts here Saturday and Sunday, were arraigned before U. S. Commissioner Keating today.

It is probable all will be held for the action of the October federal grand jury.

Postoffice Inspector Jennings declared the band of thieves had stolen no less than $1,500,000 in mail since they began operations two years ago.

Exhibits at State Fair Dismantled

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 14.—Workmen at the state fair grounds today were dismantling what is declared to have been one of the finest exhibitions ever staged here. The fair ended at midnight.

FIVE KILLED WHEN TRAIN HITS AUTO

SHELBY, Mont., Sept. 14.—Five persons were killed and another was probably fatally injured here Sunday, when an automobile in which they were riding collided with a fast Great Northern mail train.

The dead:

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Hasquet; Mrs. O. B. McIntire and two children, Virginia, 11, and Jean, 12. The injured was Mrs. B. J. Lynch.

MOVIE ACTORS TO WED

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 14.—Another romance of the film studios was revealed today with formal announcement of the engagement of Alma Rubens and Ricardo Cortez, both noted screen players.

U. S. SENATOR ARRESTED DURING FIGHT IN CAFE ON CHARGE OF DRUNKENNESS

(By United Press)

BAKER, Ore., Sept. 14.—Senator R. H. Stanfield, Oregon Republican, was at liberty today under bond of $50 on a charge of drunkenness and disorderly conduct.

He was arrested Sunday night in a cafe here by Policeman Phil Edens. Edens said Stanfield was throwing things about in the cafe and, when threatened with arrest by Edens, the senator defied him on the grounds that he was a U. S. senator.

When Edens told Stanfield that he was under arrest, Stanfield struck Edens with a right uppercut under the eye, it was said. Edens retaliated by using his billy, almost knocking the senator down before he was subdued.

Stanfield was here with Senator Cameron, Arizona, to conduct a hearing on public land affairs for the senate public lands committee.

PASTOR OF RICH CHURCH, ACCUSED IN DIVORCE CASE, RESIGNS CHICAGO PULPIT

(By United Press)

CHICAGO, Sept. 14.—His health broken by the strain of divorce proceedings, in which he was named as co-respondent, the Rev. Carl D. Case retired from the active ministry today. He presented his resignation to the fashionable suburban First Baptist church, of Oak Park, at the conclusion of his sermon yesterday.

Dr. Case was made the storm center of one of Chicago's most sensational divorce cases when Albert Leland, a member of the First Baptist church, charged that his wife had been too familiar with the pastor. Mrs. Leland, a middle-aged mother, supported her husband's story, telling of meeting the Rev. Case many times in his office at the church.

The pastor denied the charges and combatted the effort to obtain a divorce in order to clear his name. His wealthy congregation announced its faith in him and attended court in a body. The divorce was refused in the trial court, but was granted in the court of appeals. It is now before the supreme court.

FORMER COUNTY ASSESSOR DIES IN SANTA ANA

Royal L. Freeman, 72, native Californian and pioneer citizen of Santa Ana and Orange, died at his home at 534 North Olive street, Orange yesterday.

Funeral services will be held from the Winbigler Mission Funeral Home Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, and burial will be in Fairhaven cemetery. The Rev. Harry J. Hill, of Orange will officiate at the services. The Santa Ana lodge of Odd Fellows will conduct special service at the grave.

Mr. Freeman was born in Two Rock, Sonoma county, but moved to Southern California when a young man. For a number of years he was a teacher at the San Juan Capistrano schools, and later held the office of county assessor for Orange county, in which he served for a number of years. After this he was city assessor for a number of years here.

He was a charter member of the Santa Ana Odd Fellow's lodge and the only charter member. The lodge, now making preparations for a celebration of their fiftieth anniversary had planned to honor Mr. Freeman by presenting him with a handsome jewelled emblem, ordered especially from the national organization, it was learned today. The Santa Ana lodge will be 50 years old in October.

Surviving Mr. Freeman are four daughters, Mrs. Clara Vestal and Miss Leona Freeman of Orange; Mrs. Gladys Carroll, of Denver and Mrs. Mabel Rogers. One son, Raymond L. Freeman, of Fullerton, also survives.

Mr. Freeman was a member of the Christian church and for many years was superintendent of the Santa Ana Sunday school of the Christian church.

He had been a resident of Orange for the last 13 years, but at all times had claimed both Santa Ana and Orange as his home.

Young Folk Are Entertained at Jolly Masquerade

Saturday night was made enjoyable for a group of young people of Santa Ana with a masquerade party at the home of W. B. Hampton, 513 South Main street. The party was given by Miss Louisa Hampton, Miss Evelyn Wurster and Miss Bertha French in compliment to Miss Della Hampton who has just celebrated her nineteenth birthday. There were many interesting costumes worn such as that of an intriguing young flapper of the early nineties worn by Evelyn Metzgar, and the one impersonating the Scotch lassie of gala occasions.

The early part of the evening, spent out of doors, was given over to several amusing games. Later the guests entered the house where delicious refreshments were served after which Miss Della opened the many beautiful presents that she had received. The rest of the evening was spent in singing and dancing until a late hour when the guests took a reluctant leave.

Those who enjoyed the hospitality of the Hamptons were the Misses Kate Benton, Evelyn Metzgar, Dorothy Clarkson, Louise Van Dien, Eva McNeil, Dorothy Beals, June Goodwin, Louise Stephenson, the honored guest, Della Hampton, and the hostesses, the Misses Louisa Hampton, Evelyn Wurster and Bertha French. The Messrs. Frank Wurster, Ernest Crumrine, Wayne Crumrine, Clyde Higgins, Herbert Lembke, Irwin Sichert, Kenneth Knight, Kenneth Brown, Kenneth Lloyd, Glover Hendrickson, and Donald Smith.

"White Gables" Proves Lovely Setting For Bridge Tea

After a suspension of social activities during the summer months, the opening function for the members of Torosa Rebekah lodge of this city, took place on Friday of last week, when Mrs. William Watkins opened her spacious home—"White Gables" — 1342 North Ross street for a bridge tea.

The lovely sun room of the home was filled to capacity with lovers of bridge, who occupied places at 15 tables. Many other guests listened to a program of music and reading, rendered in the reception hall and library.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess and members from Torosa lodge. A bit of oriental coloring was added to the scene by the presence of the two little Japanese maids, who met the guests at the door in gay costumes and who proved to be Miss Evelyn Chandler and Miss Eleanor Mitchell.

Mrs. Watkins was assisted in receiving by her sister-in-law, Mrs. R. T. Brain and her niece Mrs. Zella Reisland, both of Los Angeles, who were her house guests.

NEWCOM SUES TOWNSEND AND FRED MEDBERY

Declaring that there is an extensive balance due in the form of lease rental from the former autobile firm of Townsend and Medbery, now dissolved, R. B. Newcom, owner of the building at Fifth and Broadway, where the firm was at one time located, today had filed suit in superior court for $2079.50. Attorneys Bishop and Wellington represent Newcom.

Townsend and Medbery, Inc., the R. W. Townsend Motor company, R. W. Townsend as an individual, and Fred Medbery, together with other directors of the former company, were named defendants.

According to Newcom's complaint Townsend and Medbery leased his building in June, 1922, the lease running to May 1, this year. The R. W. Townsend Motor company was alleged to have taken over the assets and obligations of the dissolved corporation, including obligations of the lease. Claiming that the lease was abandoned in July, 1924, Newcom declares that the sum of $3266.67 remained due him. Rental he received for the premises from other tenants in the meantime amounted to $1216.67 and he credited the sum to the defendants, leaving a balance of $2050 for which judgment is asked. An additional $29.50 is demanded as the defendant's share of the cost of cutting a door through a partition in the building.

SANTA ANA PUBLIC SCHOOLS OPENED

and elementary schools, Superintendent Cranston declared. He added that, while the state legislature, at the last session, passed measures requiring that at least 50 per cent of each pupil's time be spent in the study of the three R's—readin', ritin' and 'rithmetic—it would not be necessary to make any changes in the program of the Santa Ana schools, they having already complied with the law.

Commenting upon the expressed fears of some parents in regard to the infantile paralysis scare, Superintendent Cranston intimated that it is far better when illness is in a community for the children to be in school, under the close supervision of teachers and school nurses, than to be playing around promiscuously.

ENJOY days and nights free from these troublesome pests. Spray Flit.

Flit spray clears the house in a few minutes of mosquitoes and disease-bearing flies. It is clean, easy and safe to use.

Kills Household Insects

Flit spray also destroys bed bugs, roaches, ants, and insect eggs. The cracks and crevices where insects hide and breed are readily reached by Flit spray. Spraying Flit on garments kills moths and their larvae which eat holes. Extensive tests showed that Flit did not stain or injure the most delicate fabrics.

A Scientific General Insecticide

Flit is the result of exhaustive research by expert entomologists and chemists. More than 70 formulas were tested on various household insects before Flit was finally perfected. Flit is a 100% effective insecticide containing no inactive (inert) ingredients.

"KERNELS" BY THE COLONEL

Some time ago the city council passed an ordinance "to get rid of the slot machines," by imposing a city tax on each one of $40 per year, but instead of "getting rid" of them, the city dads accidentally made the city some money.

Through brilliant figuring, the council decided that a $40 tax on each machine would "knock 'em dead," but the day the ordinance went into effect one man alone paid for the right to operate 45 such machines, and then probably laughed at the obstacle put in his path.

So far as can be seen, more machines are coming into the city monthly and the old ones are still doing a thriving business. The tax apparently had no more impression on them than the League of Nations had on the U. S. A.

Police assert that there are 100 machines in Santa Ana, and stores where they are located are not asking that they be removed. In fact, new stores, opening up are seeking slot machines, as a means of helping pay the rent.

Other cities have decided that the slot machines are not within the law and have ousted them, but here, where it apparently takes a raise in a policeman's salry to get a rise out of the council, slot machines are lawful if the tax is paid.

The machines are not gambling machines, oh no! the reason they make money is because the population of Santa Ana has suddenly developed a remarkable taste for mints.

Straw hats for 1925 are passe. Mayor Tubbs has issued no proclamation to this effect, but just the same he pitched Clyde Bishop's hat out in the street at Third and Main streets, after a big fist had been run through it.

Money raising schemes are plentiful in Santa Ana, from tag days to "Hey, you, give me a dollar" tactics, but it takes the Lions' club quartet to bring out the best scheme of all. The The member who can raise the most money for some good cause is made manager.

Lyle Anderson was manager until "Sunny" Sundquist raised some jack for a Fullerton engagement and now Anderson is back on the job, after selling the quartet to the Orange county realtors for more money than Sundquist received. He will hold the job until a larger amount is secured by some other member.

Two young sons of Earl Lentz, city detective, had been playing hide and seek all day. Darkness came and the boys were made ready for bed. Each night both try to say their prayers first, but this time the elder boy got the jump on the younger, and the yunger, realizing it, suddenly jumped up, ran to the bed post and yelled: "One, two three for me, Lord," and jumped in bed.

The same guy that requested to be a cake-taster at the county fair would probably also like to have a job with the Santa Ana board of censors, who also get something for nothing.

MAN HUNTED FOR YEAR IS ARRESTED

With the arrest of a man named R. Gibson, at San Bernardino Saturday, local police will make an effort to have the man brought here to face charges of passing alleged fictitious checks in Santa Ana in October, 1924.

A search for the man has been maintained by the Santa Ana police for the past eleven months.

Gibson, with several other persons, was suspected of being one of a gang, working out of Los Angeles, who stole blank checks, later filling them out for various amounts and cashing them.

While operating here, several checks were cashed, it was said by Chief Claude Rogers today, but Gibson was never caught. Three alleged confederates, Peter Ray, George Derby and a woman named Pearl Hughes were arrested at that time, but were later freed because of lack of evidence.

Now with the arrest of Gibson, police believe they have a strong enough case to convict him and have asked that he be held.

Gibson has been turned over to Pasadena police who are said to hold a fictitious check warrant for him there, and in case Pasadena does not convict him, he probably will be brought to Santa Ana to face like charges.

Checks stolen here belonged to the P. R. and V. Product company and to the Giles Engineering company of 1316 Santiago street, Chief Rogers said.

The best dancers from this part of the county will be at Greenville Bean Growers' warehouse Tuesday evening, September 15th. The net proceeds will be given for Santa Barbara relief.

Chatter!

AUTUMN FASHIONS are becoming more elaborate. Remember the days of the very straight lines when the mannish silhouette was so earnestly sought after? It's a fact that feminists have revolted against this attitude. Piquant details, ingenious arrangements of flares, godets, circular skirts, jabots, lace and novel trimmings, new necklines and so on—these new femininistic details in modes are demonstrated in Rankin's Fashion Shops.

Is School Apparel still a question with you? You'll find helpful ideas on all three floors.

FANCIFUL details have been added to the new Umbrellas for Fall. Innumerable styles in short handles. Silks, Satins, Ottoman, Silk and Cotton—fancy borders, fancy edges, etc. All silk at $5 to $14, Silk and Cotton at $3.50 and $4, a new umbrella fabric at $2.50. Children's at $1.25 and $1.50. Folding umbrellas, $4.50 to $7.

GOOD Fall fabrics are Mopac Suitings at $1.00, Red Seal Zephyrs at 35c, English Prints at 35c to 65c, School Percales at 30c. 54-inch Silks are most favored—Flat Crepes, Satin Crepes, Charmeuse, Suede Crepe and the new Surah Crepe, at $5 to $6.50. New Wool Flannel at $1.95 to $3.95, 27- and 54-inch. Charmeen, 54-inch, is $6.50.

WHAT kind of blouse to wear with a sweater? English Broadcloth models, in trim little styles, with sports collars, answer the question. Priced at $1.95.

Some new Sports Hose have recently come in. Pretty new styles and colors, $1 to $1.75.

"MIRETTE" and "Wendy" are two new frocks of crepe-back satin. Mirette with tucks, a flare and a tie!—a profusion of buttons—at $59.50. And Wendy, slim and straight of silhouette, with inverted pleats. Fur trimmed collar and cuffs, exquisite tapestry embroidery on pockets—at $57.50.

A wonderful showing of the new Corsage and Shoulder Flowers can be seen on main floor.

AMONG new Intimate Apparel is a most excellent value in Milosheen Slips in the darker suit shades, Navy, Tans, Henna, Browns and Black. At $3.75. New Corselettes in brocades, Swami tops, Compacts—in "Nature's Rival," "Form Fit," and "Pansy." A splendid line, at $5 to $15.

New Ties and Scarfs of Crepe de Chine in beautiful printed designs are most becoming.

COOLER days are coming when Baby must be warmly dressed. Of all persons, Baby must surely be ready with his Fall wardrobe so he'll always be warm and comfy. All the tiny little necessities can be found in Rankin's Baby Shop, third floor. Do your baby's shopping now!

Correct Clothes To Meet The Obligation Of Every Occasion

CORRECT DRESS VS. STYLE

The difference between correct dress and mere fashion is an oft-told tale which, nevertheless, cannot be re-told too often. Fashion is transient; correct dress is permanent. Most men have neither the inclination nor the leisure to follow every fresh turn and twist of style. Abroad there is such a class, living upon inherited money—"the ignoble springs of noble prigs" somebody has wittily dubbed them. They congregate at the races; at the famous Spas and along the French-Italian Riviera. They change their clothes almost every hour, because they have little else to do. They are groomed to a hair; waxed to a needle; miracles of valetry and haberdashery. They would be strange types in this country where everybody does somenot be re-told too often. Fashion thing; where the poor may be rich tomorrow and the rich may be poor live to dress—that's the difference.

Clothes are important as an index of taste and personality, but they are not the most important thing in the world. Of far more consequence than "the last word" in style is to be turned out in garments that fit you and become you and to own enough of them for occasional and agreeable change and to meet the obligation of every occasion. He who possesses but one presentable suit, no matter how fashionably cut it might be, or he who doesn't possess an evening suit, nor a goodly assortment of shirts, cravats, hats, handkerchiefs, hosiery and the like is not a well-dressed man.

Your business wardrobe should comprise at least three suits worn in rotation. Two of them may be single-breasted; the other double-breasted. Of the major accessories of wear, outside of shoes and hats, a man should have at least a round dozen each. Two hats and three pairs of shoes usually suffice. This refers to business clothes. It does not apply to porting dress or evening dress which are governed by as much luxury and variety as the wearer can afford. An abundance of clothes is an investment, not a disbursement. You actually double the life of garments by not putting too severe and continuous a burden of wear upon them.

Summarizing the general style lines of sack coats, such as the 3-button, single-breasted model portrayed in the accompanying sketch, the shoulders are broad to hint of athletic training. The hips are kept snug to suggest trimness of figure. The front is slightly cut away to accentuate length of leg. The trousers are straight and full-draped, but without bell-bottom exaggeration.

High Art of Drapery Designing at your service

THE windows designed and decorated by the Arts and Decorations Department of Horton's stand out as works of art. This service is now reaching out into most of the counties of Southern California, as its reputation spreads. The value of this service lies in the art of designing the draperies for a window and carrying out the artist's ideas in our Workroom. It is equally valuable to the smallest home and the greatest mansion. The greatest cost is the material—you can choose any suitable fabric that meets your taste and the price you wish to pay.

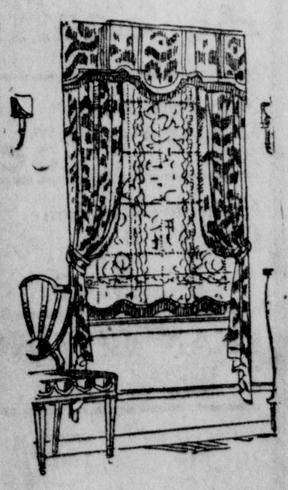

Rayon Ruffled Curtains, $4.50 a Pair

Silky Rayon in ruffled curtains is new. It makes a complete window dressing, decorative and smart. Rose with Silver, Blue with Silver, are colors now in stock. The price of $4.50 per pair is less than you would pay for the gauze by the yard, not to mention making. Other colors can be had on special order—matching any color scheme.

New Imported Grenadines in Sunfast Colorings

Extra quality weaves; check patterns in rose, blue, orchid and gold; and combination colorings; 45-inch at $1.10 a yard. Multi-colored Grenadines with cross stripes at 85c. Multi-colored Grenadines with cross stripes of Rayon at $1.25. Embroidered figured patterns at $1.25. Ready-made Grenadine Curtains are $6 and $8 a pair.

Rayon Gold Nets for Glass Curtains

New weaves and patterns; 36-inch square mesh weave at $1.00 a yard. 48-inch square mesh weave, at $1.40 and $1.50. Bullion fringes to match with black headings at 45c a yard.

Rayon Gauze, Sunfast Colors, $1.25

Guaranteed sunfast colors; a beautiful quality of Rayon Gauze; 48 inches wide; at $1.25 a yard. Fringes to match are 35c and 50c a yard.

New Damask for Side Draperies

A large assortment of Repps and Roman Stripes for side draperies; reasonable prices.

Estimates on Work Gladly Given

We'll be glad to figure the cost of making draperies to your order and submit an estimate for your approval or rejection.

Old Pieces Re-upholstered

We are doing a wonderful service in our Workrooms by practically re-building old upholstered pieces of furniture. We have an expert upholsterer and are using his time in re-upholstering furniture for customers who prefer this to buying new furniture.

PHIL D. SWING WILL VISIT IN ORANGE COUNTY

In order to interview any resident of Orange county who desires to see him about any matter in connection with his office, Congressman Phil D. Swing is to be in this county October 13, 14 and 15. A tentative itinerary has been announced for the congressman, who has been scheduled to speak twice during his visit in this county, once at noon of October 13 before the Kiwanis club of Fullerton and once at noon of October 15 before the Lions club of Santa Ana.

T. E. Stephenson, who has been put in charge of the itinerary, said that it was likely that Swing would hold an evening meeting with the Orange County Harbor Chamber of Commerce. Citrus, walnut, bean and sugar beet growers are to have sessions with the congressman at the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce rooms on October 15.

The tentative itinerary for meeting the public follows:

October 13—10 a. m., Brea. 12 noon, Kiwanis club, Fullerton; 2:30 p. m., Fullerton Chamber of Commerce; 3 p. m., Anaheim Chamber of Commerce.

October 14—Orange, 10 a. m., chamber of commerce rooms; Garden Grove, 1:30 p. m.; Huntington Beach, 3:30 p. m.

October 15—Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce, St. Ann's Inn. 9:30 a. m. to 11:15, citrus growers. 11:15 to 12, bean growers. Noon, Lions club, St. Ann's Inn. 2 p. m., walnut growers; 3 p. m., sugar beet men. 4 p. m., individuals.

YOUTH WOUNDED BY "UNLOADED PISTOL"

Wounded in the neck by a pistol that "wasn't loaded," Frank Wurster is thankful that the unloaded pistol did not contain a bullet.

It was at a masquerade party at the Wade Hampton home, 513 South Main street, that the ancient pistol and its ancient load of powder caused Wurster's wound.

The firearm arrived at the home as a part of the decorations and paraphernalia of one of the guests who was attired as a pirate. It was an old cap and ball pistol of a kind that long since went out of common use. The owner, the Rev. W. L. H. Benton, had had the pistol for a quarter of a century or more, and years ago had inspected it to make sure it was unloaded. He had probed the barrel. Had there been a bullet or wad and load of powder in the barrel, the condition would have been recognized. As it was, there probably was only a small load of powder and an accumulation of rust and thus the load was not discovered, in spite of the fact that due discretion and care had been exercised.

At the party Saturday evening, just to make a snap, one of the boys put the head of a match on the cap point, and pulled the trigger. The result was surprising. A report, and instantly Frank Wurster was struck by a projectile.

Wurster went to the Santa Ana Valley hospital where physicians applied serums to prevent tetanus. The wound, located toward the back of the neck, was found to be superficial. No serious consequences are anticipated.

Postpone Legion Auxiliary Meet

The regular meeting of the Santa Ana American Legion auxiliary scheduled for next Thursday night, in the Legion home, on Birch street, has been postponed until the night of October 1, according to an announcement made today by Mrs. Eugene Robinson, president.

The meeting was postponed because of the state convention of the Legion, Les Societe des 40 Hommes et 8 Chevaux, and the auxiliary, being held this week at Avalon, Catalina island.

Mrs. Robinson, with 12 delegates from the Santa Ana organization, left here early today to attend the convention.

ORANGE COUNTY FAIR BOARD TO MEET TUESDAY

A joint meeting of the Orange county fair board and the advisory board has been called for tomorrow night at Ketner's cafe. Manager A. M. Stanley and the heads of standing committees have important reports to take up and will present additional plans to round out this year's fair to a high degree.

On the fair grounds the contractor is making great headway with construction work. The bleachers, to seat 5,000 persons, are about half completed, and will be done in ample time for the opening day, next Tuesday, September 22. The corrals for the rodeo and horse show, entrance arches, box offices and other buildings are about finished by the local contractors. The fair is spending $5000 on the grounds, preliminary to the erection of the tents and exhibits.

Arrangements for decorations have been completed with the Alen organization of Los Angeles. The streets of Santa Ana will be decorated this week in preparation for the opening. American flags will be erected along the sidewalks by local merchants and the American Legion, and the posts and wires will be richly hung with varicolor banners.

With the arrival of part of the rodeo stock, and constant arrival of exhibit plans at the courthouse, it is indicated that the fair will be as nearly ready as any fair in history, when the gates are opened at 10 o'clock Tuesday. It has already been arranged to have U. S. Senator Samuel M. Shortridge deliver the dedicatory address at 1 o'clock of the opening day. The first rodeo will follow in the afternoon, and the pageant at night.

GRIGSBYS RETURN AFTER LONG TRIP

F. M. Grigsby and daughter, Miss Grace Grigsby, 806 East Fourth street, have returned to their home in this city after a prolonged stay in a number of eastern states where friends and relatives were visited.

Going from here to Orange, N. J., they visited a son and brother, Harry D. Grigsby, where they spent several weeks. They toured New Jersey by automobile, visiting virtually all of the important cities, and later went to New York City, Albany and other New York cities. Returning west to Elkhart, Ind., they visited a brother of Mr. Grigsby, George M. Grigsby, and went from there to Chicago for a visit and then to northern Wisconsin where twe weeks were spent.

While in Wisconsin, Mr. Grigsby became interested in a number of fox farms which dot the northern section of the state. He returned here with a number of pictures and souvenirs from the farms. Mr. Grigsby and daughter also toured by auto the northern part of this state. They returned south to central Illinois where Mr. Grigsby visited several cities which he knew a number of years ago, including Peoria, where he was in the internal revenue service for 30 years; Lewiston, Canton and Cuba, this being in the vicinity of where he was born 84 years ago and where as a young man, just after the Civil war, he was in business for a number of years.

Popular State Official Visits Local Women's Benefit Association

Mrs. Belle M. Barnard, popular state deputy commander for the Women's Benefit association, was given a hearty reception by Santa Ana Review, No. 7, when she visited that lodge Friday afternoon.

The meeting was well attended and Mrs. Barnard was extended the courtesies of the review. She told very interestingly of her summer vacation spent in the east, one week of which was spent at Port Huron, Mich., in the beautiful summer rest camp maintained for the order's members. Thirty-five women were in the party from the west, many of whom had obtained the trip by writing $32,000 worth of insurance. The company of women were given a royal reception and one day were entertained in the beautiful home of the supreme commander, Miss Bina M. West.

Mrs. Barnard urged the members here to build up their Review and gave figures showing the wonderful standing the Women's Benefit association has in the fraternal insurance world, and the features of its policies. The entire business is run by women, and honoring her for her fine business ability, the supreme commander, Miss West, has just been elected unanimously the president of the National Fraternal Congress of America at its convention held in Duluth, Minn. She is the first woman to be honored with this office.

Miss West will visit Los Angeles in October, when a state rally will be held. Mrs. Barnard invited all members to make use of the free health center, which is located at 527 Western Mutual Life building, 321 West Third street, where a competent nurse is in charge. The Past Commanders association will meet the third Friday in November with the Review at Belvedere Gardens and a school of instruction is to be held in the Bank of Italy building the first Monday in each month.

Mrs. Barnard urged the members to work to increase their numbers and will send a deputy here soon to assist. All members of the order who live here and belong to other Reviews are invited to transfer and lend their efforts to build up this Review.

Following the interesting and enthusiastic meeting, delicious ice cream, home made cakes and coffee were served, the tables being prettily decorated with vari-colord flowers, artistically arranged in baskets.

U. D. of C. Guests At Orange For First Meeting of Season

The first meeting of the Emma Ransome chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy was held at the residence of Mrs. Rebecca Pope, in Orange Thursday afternoon with Mesdames R. Pope, Annis Blythe and Miss Sue Rankin as hostesses.

As this was the first meeting of the season, the newly elected president Mrs. Camelia Hunt Phillips presided over the business session. Delegates to the national convention to be held at Hot Springs, Arkansas, in November were elected. Mrs. B. Tarver and Mrs. Louise Mayfield were the delegates named with Mrs. Alice Overshimer and Mrs. T. W. Hill as alternates.

Colonel Kimberlin presented a confederate flag to the Daughters, which was graciously accepted. Mrs. George Wells gave a most interesting report of the National convention held at Dallas, Texas, last may, which she attended.

Plans were made for a Jefferson Davis program to be given at the October meeting. Hostesses for this meeting will be Mesdames Roy Stedman, George Wells, Alice Overshiner and Catherine Bradford.

Former Santa Ana Miss Marries at Pretty Home Wedding

Because the bride was a former resident of Santa Ana, the wedding of Miss Harriett B. Anderson to Prof. E. I. Fjeld, which took place September 10, in the beautiful home of Dr. and Mrs. O. L. Bates in Los Angeles, is of interest to Santa Ana people.

The bridal party entered to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march played by Mrs. Harriett Henry Whiting on the piano and took their places under an improvised altar of flowers and greenery.

Dr. H. B. Smith of Immanuel Presbyterian church, Los Angeles, performed the ceremony and the bride was given away by her brother, Dr. M. C. Anderson, of Hermosa Beach.

The bride was lovely in a gown of white satin and her long tulle veil was caught in place with orange blossoms on her head, while her flowers were a shower bouquet of bride's roses and delphinium. Miss Birdena Anderson, sister of the bride and a teacher in Julia Lathrop junior high chool in Santa Ana, was chosen as maid of honor. She was gowned in blue georgette and carried pink roses and delphinium.

Dr. O. L. Bates acted as best man. As the bridal party entered the room, the two attendants, Roger William and John Robert Anderson, of Los Angeles, led the way to the altar by forming an aisle with ribbons of woodbine.

Little Miss Catherine Story, of Los Angeles, was ring bearer, while the little Misses Peggy Twining and Maxine Anderson, of Los Angeles, as flower girls, scattered roses in the path of the bride.

The bride and groom are graduates of the University of Illinois, at present Mr. Fjeld is a member of the faculty of the University of Colorado. Following their honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Fjeld will be at home after October 1 in Boulder, Colorado.

Miss Tubbs and Miss McDermott Leave for East

Miss Marjorie Tubbs and Miss Lucy McDermott are leaving today for the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, Mich., for their second year at that institution. V. V. Tubbs, father of Miss Tubbs, is accompanying them on their trip east.

Last year Miss Tubbs won the women's tennis championship at the university, and took for herself a place as an honor student by which she is allowed this year to live at the honor house of the university.

Miss McDermott who is the daughter of A. M. McDermott, 134 West Twentieth street, is taking a literary course, is interested in woman's league work, and at present is particularly interested in the erection of a large building that is to be used as the headquarters for all women of the university.

Negro Levee Dance Gets O. K. for Ballroom Floor

To Charleston or not to Charleston, that seems to be the question uppermost these days in the minds of Santa Anans, who trip the light fantastic, for slowly and surely the Charleston "bug" is biting the conservative and conventional dancers leaving plenty of room for argument pro and con.

And now comes the announcement from Santa Ana dancing teachers, just returned from San Francisco and New York City, who declare that the Charleston—that bit of terpsichorean acrobatics created by Frank Farnum, brother of Dustin Farnum of screen fame, from the buck and wing shuffling of the negroes on the Louisiana levees—has finally been adopted for the ballroom.

In fact, according to Mrs. Mabel Rockwell, in charge of the Rockwell Dancing school, in Santa Ana, the dance was indorsed in Oakland recently by the Dancing Teachers' convention—with, of course, moderation.

As arranged by the convention, it is said to be clever, graceful and dignified on the ballroom floor—and will not block up "traffic" for the other dancers.

But here come the "don'ts" which govern the ballroom Charleston, differentiating it from the exhibition or stage dancing Charleston.

There are, according to the dancing teachers, five variations to the dance for ballroom use. Now these variations do not require the dancer to leave his partner's embrace and dance off in another direction, like the exhibition Charleston. In fact, the dancing teachers hold up their hands in horror, declaring that it just isn't done and is very, very bad form.

Mrs. Jules Hilton, who conducts the Hilton school of dancing, and who has just returned from New York City, advocates a "Charleston" year for Santa Ana dancers.

So you conservative dancers, who have been practicing at home on the Charleston, may dance it to your heart's content on the ballroom floor, providing you hang on to your partner throughout the entire dance.

Former Ohioans Enjoy Friendly Event at Crissman Home

Swaying eucalyptus trees gave place to stately buckeyes in the fancies of a group of Ohioans last Friday, and the chaparral covered slopes of Saddleback, seemed instead the rolling hills of Ohio, green with oak and beech trees, when over thirty former residents of Brown county, Ohio, enjoyed the friendly hospitality of Mrs. William Crissman at her home, 617 South Birch street.

The group which forms an Ohio club with most of its members drawn from Los Angeles, arrived in time to enjoy a delectable tray luncheon at the Crissman home which was adorned with asters and begonias in honor of the event.

Beginning with a fruit cocktail, Mrs. Crissman served what was declared to be a typical Ohio luncheon of creamed chicken on fluffy hot biscuits, both sweet and Irish potatoes, a lettuce and tomato salad, and a final course of marble cake and orange ice while such tidbits as fig preserves, grapes and sugarad walnuts added to the deliciousness of the repast. She was aided in serving by two of her daughters, Mrs. Jack Grossman of Los Angeles and Mrs. Raymond Carey of this city whose little daughter Dorothy was also a happy guest.

Friendly chat, animated reminiscences of days in the Buckeye state and needlework enlivened the afternoon. An interesting feature of the occasion was the fact that one nonogenarian, Mrs. Sarah Prine of Los Angeles, 92 years of age, was present, and extracted fully as much enjoyment from the party as did the other and younger guests.

Sharing Mrs. Crissman's hospitality were Mesdames Margaret Hill, G. C. Eades and son Ralph and Raymond Carey and daughter Dorothy of this city; Mrs. Hattie Theis, Anaheim; Miss Lina Metz and Mesdames Woodham, George Buchanan, Sally Hook, Gladys Walsh, C. W. Newcomb, Anna Meeke, Emma Rust, Mary Hanselman, Lydia Hanselman, Emma C. Cahall, Frank Abbott. Jessie Howard, Lucy Evans, Mildred McClary and daughter Patricia, C. W. Salisbury, C. E. Veail, Sarah Prine, C. T. Heizer, R. M. Stevenson and Jack Grossman of Los Angeles.

Miss Hazel Boggs Becomes Bride of Richard Rogers

Miss Hazel Boggs, attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Boggs, 1130 West Second, Santa Ana, was married Saturday afternoon to Richard Rogers also of Santa Ana at the home of the bride's brother, W. W. Boggs in Whittier.

The ceremony was read in the presence of a few relatives and friends, the bride being lovely in a white canton crepe dress.

Sunday, a reception and luncheon was held at the Boggs home in Whittier and was largely attended by friends and relatives from Los Angeles, and Santa Ana.

Those attending from Santa Ana were Mrs. Mary T. Rogers, Mrs. C. W. Bogg, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. F. T. Catherman, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hopkins, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Catherman and Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Boggs.

The bride was graduated from the Santa Ana high school last June and has a large circle of friends in Santa Ana. The young couple will make their home near San Joaquin, where the groom is employed on a fruit ranch.

Santa Anans Attend Pretty Home Wedding In La Habra

A number of Santa Ana folks were present last evening, at the wedding of Miss Mary Louise Hickam to B. M. Hoge, which took place at 8:30 o'clock at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. F. W. Taylor, in La Habra, with Rev. Claude Smith, of Long Beach, officiating.

Nuptial music consisted of a whistling solo "At Dawning" by Miss Irene Catland of Santa Ana, followed by the vocal solo "I Love You Truly," by Miss Josephine Taylor of La Habra, cousin of the bride. Hiss Ethel Lindsell, La Habra, accompanied both solos on the piano.

The bride was charming in a white georgette gown and her beautiful veil was held in place with orange blossoms. Sweet peas and lilies of the valley made in a shower bouquet were the bride's flowers. The young couple were unattended.

The ceremony was read beneath an improvised altar arranged with pink and white blossoms and ferns, while on either side two altar candles furnished the illumination. Over 65 guests attended the wedding and reception which followed.

The new Mrs. Hoge chose as her going away outfit an ensemble of brown and beige. Following a two weeks' honeymoon spent in Northern California, Mr. and Mrs. Hoge will be at home to their friends in La Habra at Florence and Cypress streets.

The bride enjoys a large circle of friends in Santa Ana and the surrounding community, having visited here many times.

RELIEF DRIVE TO DATE NETS $2455

Latest figures compiled by the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce, in the drive for Santa Barbara relief, show that the city has raised $2,455 of the $7,000 quota, according to an announcement made today by A. L. Oliger, secretary of the Chamber.

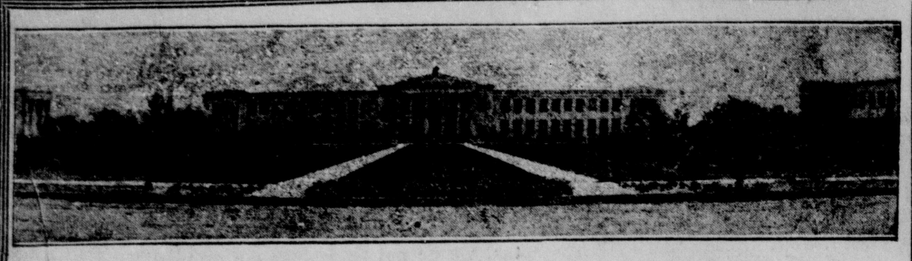

A call for more workers again was made by Oliger today. There are several sections of the city which have not been canvassed for funds, he said.

Persons who are holding checks for the fund are asked to send these into the Chamber of Commerce immediately. This will eliminate the possibility of workers having to call on the merchants who have signified their intention of later sending checks.

The drive is on, and will not be closed until the quota is reached, Oliger intimated.

SAYS REPORTS CHURCH SUIT SETTLED FALSE

Emphatic denial that the suit brought by five members of the Santa Ana Four Square against Aimee Semple McPherson, Mrs. Minnie Kennedy and others for an accounting of contributions and collections, had been dropped, was made today by W. H. Dixon, one of the five, following an inquiry call from a Los Angeles newspaper. The paper called Dixon on the long distance telephone and reported that a report was in general circulation that the dissenters here had instructed their attorneys to withdraw the complaint.

Foddowing is a statement by Dixon:

"No, our suit has not been dropped nor will it be unless or until the purpose for which it was started has been accomplished.

"Mrs. Kennedy recently announced from our tabernacle pulpit that Angelus temple had anywhere from 10 to 100,000 people and as many dollars at their command with which to fight this case.

"We have no such vast resources in men and money at our command. We don't need them. But we do have a firm conviction of the justice of our cause; we do have an abiding faith in the integrity of the courts of Orange county and boundless confidence that the size of our respective bank rolls will not be the determining factor, but that even handed justice will be dispenced when it reaches the trial stage. That's all we want—justice."

TUSTIN WOMAN IS ARRESTED AT HOME

Mrs. Mabel Curry, South B street, Tustin, was today free on her own recognizance, following her arraignment in Justice Kenneth Morrison's court early today, on a burglary charge. Her examining trial has been set for September 22, at 9 a. m. in the justice court.

The woman was arrested by Chief Criminal Deputy Ed McClellan and Constable Joe Ryan, Saturday night. She was brought to Santa Ana, but released on her own recognizance at that time.

The arrest followed a complaint obtained by D. E. Hall, Tustin man, who charges that Mrs Curry entered his garage. Whether anything was alleged to have been taken was not clearly brought out in the complaint, it merely reading that she entered the garage with intent to steal.

GIRL INJURED AS AUTO BACKFIRES

Falue Alcaras, 16-year-old Delhi girl was seriously injured at 4:30 p. m. yesterday when she jumped from an automobile at Delhi, striking her head on the pavement. A slight concussion of the brain was found by physicians at the Orange county hospital, where the girl was taken.

According to witnesses, several persons including the Alcaras girl, were seated in a Ford car. The car backfired, frightened the occupants, who jumped hurriedly from the machine. In the dash for freedom, the Alcaras girl was injured.

Hospital physicians stated that the injury would not prove fatal, and the girl was taken home today.

Orange County Wins Cup At State Fair

Orange county was awarded a silver cup for meritorious exhibit at the state fair at Sacramento, according to a telegram received here today by Dr. F. W. Slabaugh, county purchasing agent, from Justus Craemer, of Orange, member of the state agricultural board. The award was on the general exhibit by the county.

The county also took a large number of blue ribbon awards, according to A. W. Fuller, local realtor, who visited the fair last week.

BAND TO PLAY LAST SUMMER PARK CONCERT

A program of request numbers will be presented by the Santa Ana band at its last summer concert in Birch park, tomorrow night, it was announced today by D. C. Cianfoni, director of the musical organization.

The program is dedicated to patrons, and the director has acceeded to the requests of a great number for the presentation of certain numbers. He pointed out that it was impossible to include all the numbers asked for and that he had selected those he thought would offer the most pleasure to the hundreds who are expected to gather at the park for the final program.

Of particular interest is the announcement that Robert Brown will participate in the program. This baritone soloist will offer "Shipmate o' Mine," declared to be one of the best numbers ever written by its author. Cianfoni has arranged the piece for the band in order to give the number massive support.

"Members of the band are very appreciative of the cordial reception given their efforts to entertain the public with programs of god music," Cianfoni said. "We trust that the attendance at the final concert will be larger than at any of the previous concerts in the esries, for the program is to be one of the best presented in the series."

The program follows:

March, "The Lions," (Cianfoni).

Overture, "Poet and Peasant" (Suppe).

Trombone solo, "The Holy City," (Adams).

Polka duet, The Garibaldina, (Cianfoni), by Mr. L. Valente and Cianfoni.

Concert waltz "Lizette" (McHary).

Characteristic—"Parade of Tin Soldier" (Linke).

Grand selection "Carmen" (Geo. Bizet.)

GAS AND OIL LAW PASSED BY BOARD OF SUPERVISORS

Ordinance Tends to Protect Motorist from Overcharge; Effective Oct. 8

CERTAIN STANDARD MUST BE ATTAINED

County Sealer of Weights And Measures Is Given Power Under Statute

Orange county's "pure petroleum" ordinance, regulating the sale of gasoline and oils, has been passed by the county board of supervisors and will go into effect October 8.

Provisions of the ordinance tend to protect the motorist from paying the price of high quality for a low-quality product. That is the meat of the ordinance, officials say. It is designed to prevent the foisting of poor gas on the motoring public in the guise of pure gas. Heavy penalties are provided for violations of the ordinance.

Petroleum products placed on sale in the county henceforth must conform to certain standards and tests outlined in the ordinance or must bear plain labels, stating that they do not conform to the requirements.

These labels, placing their stigma upon the pumps to which they are attached, must be printed in letters not less half an inch high, the ordinance says. The motorist can easily read the label and then if he wants to buy poor gas that's his own affair. The supervisors wash their hands of him at that stage.

There is a clause in the ordinance that forbids mis-labeling of pumps. If a container bears the label of any product, only that product shall be sold from that container.

The county sealer of weights and measures is given authority, under the ordinance, to demand access to all containers and take samples of the product at any time, for testing.

Any violation of the ordinance is made a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine of not more than $500, or a jail sentence of not more than six months, or by both fine and jail sentence.

The ordinance has an extra tooth in it by reason of the clause making a separate offense of each day that any violation of the ordinance is allowed to continue without correction. Thus the dealer guilty of keeping off-color gas on sale without a label on the pumps for a week would be liable to a $500 fine and a six-months jail sentence for each day; a total fine of $3500 and an aggregate sentence of three and a half years in jail.

$600,000 Is Paid For Oil Property

BAKERSFIELD, Sept. 14.—Involving consideration of $600,000 for 40 acres of oil lands on Maricopa Flats, a deal has been completed whereby the General Petroleum corporation has taken over the holding of the Pacific Midway Oil company adjoining the Obispo company lease on Section 32-12-23. The property is held under a government permit and it has been partially drilled in past operations, having several wells.

MILLIONS OF DOLLARS ARE WASTED EVERY YEAR BY ORANGE COUNTY FARMERS

By J. P. BAUMGARTNER

Orange county walnut growers are losing $500,000 a year because a large percentage of their trees are planted too close together.

The valencia orange growers of the county are losing more than double that amount annually because they are not taking the best of care of their trees, and the loss on this account is increasing in a compound interest ratio.

Another source of great and easily preventable loss is the failure to provide their groves with heaters.

Many growers of all kinds of crops in Orange county—especially citrus crops—are wasting water and curtailng their production as well as lowering it quality, and impairing the vigor of the trees, by using too much water.

We hear a great deal these days about the necessity of conserving the storm waters of the Santa Ana river watershed—which is well. But what about the necessity of conserving the soil fertility of the Santa Ana valley? What about conserving the capital we have invested in walnut groves and orange groves and lemon groves? These questions fairly clamor for consideration as we sense the significance of the somewhat astounding but undoubtedly true statements made in the opening paragraphs of this article—statements made on the authority of Harold Wahlberg, Orange county farm advisor.

Mr. Wahlberg was not talking for publication, but when asked if he was willing to be quoted he answered: "Emphatically, yes, because anything that will help to convince our farmers of the truth of what I have said will be rendering them and the whole community a service of tremendous value."

Amplifying these statements, Mr. Wahlberg said that, so far as walnuts are concerned the statement of loss by reason of the trees being too close together is more than an estimate. The farm bureau, in co-operation with the Walnut Growers' association, made a very careful survey and found that in 5000 of the 17,000 acres of walnut groves in Orange county the trees are planted entirely too close together. Careful and accurate records of returns of yields proved conclusively that more nuts per acre, and of better quality, are grown on trees set 50 feet and 60 feet apart than on double the number of trees per acre.

"It takes courage," said Mr. Wahlberg, "to wade into a fine walnut grove and cut every other tree, but a good many of the walnut growers of Orange county have proved that they have the necessary courage to do that very thing; and in not a single instance that I have any knowledge of has the result failed to justify the heroic measures adopted."

With respect to the neglect of our citrus groves by some of the growers, Mr. Wahlberg said he had made no survey and had no actual figures, but that he had been watching it very closely during the eight years he has been in this field and is absolutely convinced that a great many of the very best groves in this county are suffering from lack of attention and proper care on the part of their owners. "When I say best groves," said Mr. Wahlberg, "I mean groves of the best soil and location, with the best natural conditions—groves that were the best several years ago but are not the best now, because they have been more or less neglected."

"Speaking by and large," Mr. Wahlberg continued, "Orange county has the best soil and climate in the world for the growing of valencia oranges. And that very fact is proving the undoing of some hitherto very prosperous and successful valencia orange growers—they depend too much on our wonderful soil and climate. So far, these great resources have carried them through, but as their groves grow older they will have to give them more careful attention in the matter of fertilization, pruning, fumigating, disease control, irrigation, etc., or they will deteriorate."

"A few years ago," continued Mr. Wahlberg, "the use of orchard heaters in Orange county was almost unknown. This county as a whole having been hitherto comparatively free from frost damage, and some sections entirely so, it was not deemed profitable to invest in orchard heaters. With increased citrus acreage, improved heaters and heavy sectional frost damage in recent years, many orange growers and lemon growers have been convinced that they cannot afford not to have orchard heaters. True, there are some sections of Orange county so entirely and continuously free from frost damage that it has not been and probably will not be profitable to equip their orchards with heaters. But there are still hundreds of citrus groves in this county without heaters that should have them. Any grove that is worth cultivating and irrigating and fertilizing and fumigating is worth insurance against frost damage, unless the immunity to such damage is practically unquestionable."

Supporting Mr. Wahlberg's statement as to the value of orchard heaters, I recall a statement made to me last winter by a well-known and successful orange grower of this county. Speaking of one of his groves of twenty acres he said: "Yesterday I got a check for $22,000 for last year's crop; last night this year's crop was practically destroyed by freezing."

With respect to the waste of water and the damage to crops by the use of more water than is needed, Mr. Wahlberg again said that his statement was based on actual tests and records. He said that the best authorities are now agreed that more fruit and better fruit can be grown, in a large percentage of our citrus groves, by the use of less water; and in view of the necessity of the conservation of water Mr. Wahlberg expressed the opinion that this factor in conservation should be given careful consideration.

Mr. Wahlberg also pointed out that, in his opinion, the people of Southern California would have to face the prospect of using purified sewer water for irrigation. "Science and not sentiment," said Mr. Wahlberg, "will have to be our guide in this matter. Some of the finest and most prolific agricultural sections of Europe are dependent almost wholly on sewer water for both irrigation and fertilization; and we have the testimony of the most competent scientists in the world that sewer water can be rendered absolutely odorless for irrigation purposes."

Farm Advisor Does Big Work Here

To what extent is Orange county wasting, by failing to conserve and utilize its marvelous resources of soil and climate?

This is the question to which the accompanying article—an involuntary, but subsequently authorized, interview with Farm Advisor Wahlberg—addresses itself.

Every now and then we find in our favorite magazine—perhaps the Saturday Evening Post or the Country Gentleman or the American—an article about some county farm advisor who has done wonders in his field. And it is not just a case of a magazine writer "making copy." The farm advisor has really done wonders.

Some of these days one of these magazine writers is going to discover Harold Wahlberg, whose fine work in Orange county is just beginning to bear fruit.

Mr. Wahlberg is still quite a young man, but he has that fine personality and enthusiasm which are necessary adjuncts to his unquestionable ability and integrity.

With the proper co-operation and response to his work—which it is receiving in increased measure—he will accomplish big things for Orange county.

WARNING GIVEN PEOPLE ASKING FOR LICENSES

Would Be Auto Drivers Are Told to Report on Time Or Lose Opportunities

Persons who have made application for driver's licenses through the Orange county traffic bureau and who have failed to report for examination at the time they were told to appear may not get driver's licenses at all, it was indicated today by Captain Henry S. Warner.

More than 60 applicants were told to report for examination at the squad headquarters in the courthouse building last Thursday, but approximately 30 of these did not appear.

Captain Warner stated today that he would give the delinquents until next Thursday to report for examination, after which time he will send the blank applications to Sacramento without reports of examination.

"It will then be up to the state department to determine how these would-be drivers may obtain a license," Warner stated.

"We are too busy to run down these applicants when we want to give them their examination, and if they choose not to come in at the time set, they will have to take the chance of not receiving their licenses."

Thursday is the day set each week for examinations. On this day all motor officers are in the city and ready to serve the public.

UNION OIL COMPANY SAFETY BOOSTERS

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 14.—The national campaign for street and highway safety received its biggest Pacific coast boost today when it was announced that the entire outdoor advertising campaign of the Union Oil Company of California, supplemented by its regular newpaper advertising throughout all territory in which the company operates, costing in excess of half a million dollars, for the 14 months beginning October 15th, will be devoted to the fostering of safety rules and precautions among motorists. The announcement is signed by L. P. St Clair, vice president.

The company will display a total of 20,000 full size posters during the period of the campaign. These posters will appear continuously until December 15, 1926 on all of the 1500 board locations which the company has under contract. There will be 14 separate designs, each covering one of the big phases of the present safety need. The first broadside, a poster showing a group of children playing and a motorist stopping, is headed "Children Will Play. Be Careful." This poster will be on the boards October 15, staying up until November 15, when the second shot will be fired.

MUTILATION OF BOOKS IN PUBLIC LIBRARY CAUSE OF MUCH CONCERN

Greater Part of Destruction Is Traced to High School Students

The young ladies who check and hand out books at the Santa Ana library know books; they are now learning certain phases of the detective business.

What's more, they are successful.

The reason for their venture into the field of the keen-eyed sleuths is that there has been mutilation of library books—a lot of it.

"Mutilation of our books must cease," says the librarian, Miss Jeannette McFadden.

"We'll back you up to the limit," declared the trustees of the library.

And the "limit" in this case is considerable, for the California state law deals with the ghouls of bookdom with a vigorous hand. The law declares it to be a crime to cut, mar, deface or mutilate any book that is the property of a public library. What's more, the crime is classed as a felony.

Students Principal Offenders.

"The chief offenders in the marking and cutting of books, as well as magazines," said Harry L. Hanson, member of the library board, "are high school students. We have found in years past that students who are studying for debates often cut out portions of an article rather than copy it. We are now prepared to watch for that class of offenders. Anyone studying for a debate might as well know now as later that a system of checking up on the books and magazines they use will get the offenders into serious trouble."

But Miss McFadden pointed out that the offenders are not all among high school students. She said that illustrations are often cut out of books, and occasionally some person, impelled to write his observations on fly leaves and margins, has to be dealt with.

"Patrons should remember that they are not permitted to apply pencil or pen to the library's books," said the librarian.

Recently a number of offenses have come to light. One young man, a graduate of high school entering college this fall, is in the toils of the law right now as a result of the keen eyes of one of the attendants at the library.

Those handling the books at the desk are under instructions to keep a close watch for mutilations. Needless to say, the young women are anxious to put a stop to the damage to books, for library training has made them lovers of books. Injury to a book to them is as the kicking of a pet cat.

A few days ago, a book was called for by the young man who is now in trouble. When he returned the book to the desk, the attendant noticed a sliver of paper on the edge of the book. The young man's manner also aroused suspicion. The young woman had what all good detectives have—a hunch. The sliver of paper and the hunch worked together. The book was hastily examined, but by that time the young man was gone.

Without a moment's hesitation, the attendant went to the telephone.

"Two-one-seven," she said. That got her in touch with the police department, and within a minute thereafter a policeman was on the way to the young man's home. When the young man arrived, an officer awaited him. In the young man's pockets were found pictures of automobiles. These were the pictures that had been cut from the book at the library.

The young man up to this time has confessed to the mutilation of three books. He said he liked automobile pictures, and whenever he saw one in a book or magazine that appealed to him he cut it out.

The first thing this young man had to do was to raise money enough to pay for three new books for the library. And this is the least of his troubles.

"The library board proposes to make vigorous examples of the offenders," said Hanson. "We are asking The Register to give fair warning to patrons of the library. We propose to protect the library property."

MOST CITY DEPARTMENTS IN SANTA ANA OPERATE CHEAPER THAN RIVERSIDE

Operation of most of the city departments at Riverside cost more annually than do similar departments in the city of Santa Ana, it was disclosed today by comparison of the expenditures for Riverside for the past fiscal year with those of this city. The two departments in which Santa Ana spent more than Riverside are the fire department and police department.

Santa Ana will collect the coming year in tax money the sum of $290,743, while Riverside will collect $235,782, the former city collecting its fund on a tax rate of $1.70 and the latter on a rate of $1.61½.

The difference in the tax fund as between the two cities is accounted for largely by the point that Riverside's special and bond tax is only 26½ cents, the general rate permitted there by special charter being $1.35, while in Santa Ana the general rate, under general laws, is limited to $1, with bond and special funds absorbing the extra 70 cents.

As Riverside and Santa Ana are about the same size in population, the cost of operating the same departments in the two cities offers an interesting field for comparison.

Park Budget

It particularly is worthy of note that Riverside has a tentative budget for 1925-26 providing for an expenditure of $58,852 for parks. Last year Santa Ana spent $1600 for this purpose and probably will spend less this year, because of the lower assessed valuation.

The Riverside tax will provide $72,288 for the street department, while the tax here will produce $51,316, or approximately $21,000 less than will be used in the sister city. Riverside in the last fiscal year spent through its street department the sum of $66,098, while Santa Ana spent $34,315, for street department salaries and incidentals.

According to figures of City Clerk Ed. Vegely $21,913 was charged to the Santa Ana library fund in the year just passed, while Riverside devoted to the same purpose $44,271. The Santa Ana fund this year will be greater as the result of the council adding 2½ cents to the library rate; and if all taxes are paid that fund will have available for expenses a total of $25,653. The Riverside budget provides for a library fund increase of about $250 for the new year.

The police department of Santa Ana last year cost the city $39,744 in salaries and automobile upkeep, while the expenses of the Riverside police department aggregated $30,117.

Santa Ana Higher

For the fire department, Santa Ana spent last year $38,870 for salaries and $2500 additional for maintenance of equipment, or a total of $41,370. The Riverside department was charged with expenses totalling $28,762.

The mayor's office of Riverside was charged with expenses of $4494 in 1923-24. Santa Ana does not have a paid mayor, each of the five members of the city council drawing $25 per month. Salaries and incidental expenses for the councilmen totalled $1581 last year. Whether the amount charged to the mayor's office also includes a small salary for each of the members of the council at Riverside is not known here.

Salaries and other expenses of the office of city clerk of Santa Ana were $6646, while the expenses of the auditor and clerk at Riverside were $7,045. The local city clerk's office takes care of the duties involved in the office of auditor as maintained by the city under comparison.

Both cities, it was pointed out today, have other sources of income, such as license fees, etc.

According to the apportionment of the local tax rate, some of the important funds this year should develop the following amounts:

General, $76,974; street, $51,316; sewer, $8552; fire, $34,211; band, $1710; advertising, $1710; parks, $1710; library, $25,653.

ORCHESTRA LEADER RETURNS FROM TOUR

After an absence of more than a year during which his well known dance orchestra, known professionally as "Grigsbys Californians," was featured at the Pavo Real cafe in San Francisco, in vaudeville with the Fanchon and Marco company and at the Moana hotel at Honolulu, Floyd Edwin Grigsby today had returned to his home in Santa Ana.

Several members of his music-making entourage returned here with their leader. With them as a nucleus Grigsby announced he would reorganize a local orchestra and play for dances which Santa Ana post No. 131, American Legion, will conduct during the winter at its clubrooms on North Birch street. The first of these dances will be held next Friday night.

The Grigsby orchestra will include Francis Wade, pianist; Lawrence Allen, banjo; Loren Cannon, violin; Rodney Bradstadt, saxophone; Oris Cianfoni, saxophone; Tommy Wright, trombone; 'Shorty' Carmichael, trumpet, and Grigsby, drums.

You can save 50 per cent on your Xmas photos if you have them made this week at Gibson's, 415 N. Broadway.

AMERICAN GIRL IN JAPAN STORM

TOKIO, Sept. 12.—An American girl, Miss Alice Beach, of Pasadena, sailed for home today, firmly convinced that mountain climbing in Japan is more hazardous than in her native state.

During the severe storms of late August, Miss Beach set out to climb Mount Fujiyama, Japan's famous volcano, in company with her brother-in-law, a Tokio physician. Her brother-in-law became ill and was forced to return, leaving Miss Beach alone with a company of Japanese climbers.

At the seventh station, the storm broke, sweeping the mountain side with hail and causing a number of landslides.

Miss Beach and her companions sought refuge in the station shelter, part of which was carried away by a falling boulder. For three days, the lone American girl cheered her despairing Japanese companions and when the storm abated led them to safety down the scarred mountainside.

Stage and Screen

Anita Stewart and Bert Lytell in a scene from "Never the Twain Shall Meet," current attraction at Walker's theater.

YOST THEATER.

One of the largest and most imposing casts of the screen year was assembled to enact the many important roles in "Siege," the production now showing here at the Yost theater.

Heading the large cast are Virginia Valli and Eugene O'Brien, who are co-stared in the production. Miss Valli, one of the most popular of the screen's younger actresses, and has starred in such notable pictures as 'Up the Ladder," "A Lady of Quality," "Price of Pleasure, "K—the Unknown," and many others.

Eugene O'Brien, well known on both stage and screen, was formerly a star with the old Selznick company. He was featured with Norma Talmadge in "The Lady," "Smilin' Through," "Secrets," and other pictures, co-starred with Laura LaPlante in 'Dangerous Innocence," and headed the cast in "Frivolous Sal." On the stage, he was with Charles Frohman, David Belasco and George Tyler, and has starred in stage productions in practically every major city in the United States.

Mary Alden, noted as a versatile actress for her many difficult screen characterizations, plays a part almost equal in importance to those of Miss Valli and Mr. O'Brien in "Siege." Her other recent pictures have been "The Beloved Brute," "Babbitt," "Pleasure Mad," "Painted People," and many others.

WEST END THEATER

If you enjoy thrilling adventure and glorious romance, enacted in spectacular settings, you will find perfect entertainment in 'The Scarlet West," which began a week's engagement at the West End theater yesterday. The crowded house was wildly enthusiastic about the production and gave it a round of hearty applause.

The splendid cast of players contains such notables as Robert Frazer, Clara Bow, Robert Edeson, Johnny Walker, Walter McGrail, Gaston Glass, Helen Ferguson, Ruth Stonehouse, Martha Francis and Florence Crawford.

We have seldom witnessed a picture with as engrossing a theme as 'The Scarlet West," for it is a stirring record of one of the most dramatic periods in American history. We re-live the days when the hardy pioneers, ignoring the dangers which confronted them, set out for the West in order to found new homes; when the Indians, resentful against what they considered unwarranted invasion of their domains, rose in rebellion; Custer's historic last stand, and when the American soldiers appeared on the scene and after many years of bitter warfare brought about peace.

Such is the background of "The Scarlet West."

WALKER'S THEATER.

One of the greatest shows that has been in Santa Ana in quite sometime opened yesterday at Walker's theater to capacity audiences.

Peter B. Kyne's story of the South Seas, "Never the Twain Shall Meet," starring Anita Stewart and Bert Lytell, is brought to the screen in a completely enchanting and effective story.

Picturized in the South Sea Island, it brings to the screen a note of realism and a series of gorgeously beautiful background that vie with any ever recorded by the motion picture camera. Tahiti and Moorea are used as the South Sea Island backgrounds for this torrid story of love, romance and adventure.

As Tamea, the half-caste princess, Anita Stewart, has an unusual opportunity to portray the various facets of a dual nature; the passionate and stormy temperament of her native mother and the more civilized and reserved disposition of her French father.

Bert Lytell has the role of the American youth who is lured away from his ambitions and civilized mode of living by the bewitching Tamea.

Something new in the line of entertainment to local theater-goers was presented in a gorgeous stage presentation, a Fanchon and Marco idea of a "Charleston Contest" with a company of twenty-five persons, including Sunny Perry and her "Sunkist Beauties;" Cushing and Hutton; Al Harding, Henry Robles, Dan Payne, the Gold Dust Twins and the Knickerbocker Syncopators, a clever combination of musicians. For those who are not familiar with this class of entertainent let it be known that they are the same presentations and company which have been the sensation of Lowe's State theater, Los Angeles, and other large cities of the Pacific Coast.

Want Ads

Telephone your Want Ads to The Register 87 or 88 when it is more convenient to do so and bill will be mailed the following day. This is an accommodation service rendered Register Want Ad patrons and payment should be made promptly on first presentation of bill. Bills for ads ordered more than one day are also payable on presentation—not at expiration of order.

Always ask that your ad be repeated back to you by the ad taker to make sure that it has been taken correctly. The Register assumes no responsibility for errors in telephoned ads.

The Register will not be responsible for more than one incorrect insertion of any advertisement ordered for more than one time.

Errors not the fault of the advertiser will be adjusted by a free insertion, if such errors lessen the value of the ad. All claims for adjustment should be made within five days after insertion. No allowance will be made where the error does not materially affect the value of the ad.

In the case of Want Ads containing more than one item, adjustment will be made only on the item containing the error.

The Register reserves the right to classify Want Ads under proper headings.

Cancellation for an advertisement placed but not yet published will be taken, but cancellation cannot be guaranteed.

Ads set in the regular uniform Want Ad style without capitals or white space are computed by the line basis. The line rates appear at the top of the index.

Ads containing capital letters, display type or white space are computed by the line basis, 12 lines to the inch.

181 Acre Dairy Farm on Davis Highway, Yolo County, $250 per Acre

This farm is located in Yolo county, one of the richest counties in California. It is near the California State Agricultural Farm and is also only 18 miles from Sacramento. It runs from Putah Creek to the paved highway and is all first class alfalfa land with an abundance of water for irrigation from the Yolo county ditch, also 10-inch pumping plant with electric motor.
The improvements are worth $15,000 and include modern 7 room home, milk house, tank and tank house, garage, feed house and dairy barn with cement floor and stanchions.
A dairy man cannot find a more desirable location than this fine property at $250 per acre.

2nd door South of City Hall.

FOR SALE—2 1-3 acres of lemons. 1625 West Second.

Walnuts

10 acres budded walnuts, deep fertile soil, good well and pump. Buildings. This is one of the best producing groves in Orange county. There are very few first class walnut ranches in the county and this is one of them. The crop record on this particular place is excellent. The trees are young and have never suffered for lack of good care. I will guarantee a $4000 crop which is ready to harvest. There is possibly an eight dollar a day income for 4 or 5 months each year for pumping water for surrounding lands. This place will easily pay ten per cent on the investment and will increase materially from year to year. The property is located 2 miles from the heart of Tustin. A responsible purchaser may have very good terms in paying out this ranch. Consider several good lots or house in part pay. 1416 Spurgeon St. Phone 756-R.

FOR SALE—5 acres of full bearing Valencias, fine crop for next year. This grove is clean and has been well fertilized. It is in fine condition and at a price that will suit anyone. Good terms. See

BROCK RETURNS WITH REPORTS OF FINE CROPS

Bringing with him reports of excellent crops in the central and northern parts of the state, A. A. Brock, county horticultural commissioner, has returned home from a 10-day business and pleasure trip through California and Oregon points.

Practically every section of this state has harvested, or is planning to harvest, bumper crops, according to Brock. Prices in most commodities are good and the farmers are feeling optimistic, the commissioner states.

Brock, who was accompanied by his family, spent three days at Sacramento, where he attended several meetings of county horticultural commissioners and also visited the state fair. Several matters of importance, among them the elimination of puncture vine and red spider pests, were taken up at the commissioner's session, Brock states. An active compaign of extermination will b commenced in the counties that are particularly troubled with these pests, the commissioner declared. Orange county is bothered to some extent with puncture vine and red spider, the matter is not serious, Brock says.

The local people spent several days in northern Oregon and in San Francisco. While in Sacramento, they met several Orange county people, among them Leon Whitsell, Orange, recently appointed to the state railroad commission; Justus Craemer, co-publisher of the Orange News, and Willis Mitchell, superintendent for the Irvine company.

Girls' Classes at Y. Swimming Pool Rearranged

Because of the opening of school there will be a change tomorrow in the schedule of the gymnasium and swimming classes for Ladies Day at the Young Men's Christian association. These changes affect especially the girls classes. The schedule for gymnasium classes is: 9:45-11 a. m. home women; 3:30-4 p. m. girls 11-14 first group; 4:05-4:35 girls 11-14 second group; 4:45 5:15, high school girls; 5:30-6 business women and teachers; 7:30 to 9 business women and teachers. A period for swimming is provided for following each gymnasium class. The swimming pool will be closed from 12:30 to 2 p. m. From 2 to 3:30 it will be open and classes in beginning swimming will be organized upon request; from 3:30 until 5:45, the pool is reserved for the school girls; it will be open as long as its use justifies from 5:45 to 7:30; from 7:30 to 8 there will be a beginners class. Attendance at the classes is increasing and a very successful winter is looked forward to with Mrs. R. R. Russick in charge of the gymnasium classes and Miss Erma Schooley in charge of the swimming.

Court Notes

Damage Trial Reset

Delay in the trial of a $27,000 damage suit brought by A. C. Thorpe, Talbert rancher, against the Newbert Protection district and the Talbert Drainage district, was granted when Superior Judge E. J. Marks late Friday set aside the original trial date, October 5, and reset the case for April 5, 1926.

Both sides of the case made demands for a jury trial. Attorneys Scarborough, Forgy and Reinhaus and C. F. Holland represent the plaintiff. Attorneys Z. B. West and Franklin G. West appear for the Newbert Protection district.

In his complaint, Thorpe claims that 90 acres of his land along the Santa Ana river was rendered worthless by overflow from the ocean, caused by interference with flow of the river water. This interference, Thorpe says, consisted of dikes built by the defendants in a careless and negligent manner.

Thorpe owns nearly 600 acres on both sides of Talbert road. He places a value of $300 an acre on the land he says was ruined.

Check Charge Dismissed

H. F. Russell, of Garden Grove, was at liberty today, following dismissal of a charge that he issued a worthless check. The case was dropped by the authorities late last week, Justice K. E. Morrison granting the dismissal. Russell had been accused of passing a $11 check to Hall and McCollum, Anaheim tire dealers.

$141 Judgment Entered

Judgment for $141 was on record today in superior court against J. E. Simon, paint contractor, following hearing of a suit brought by Edward W. Seymour in Judge R. Y. Williams' court. Simon, it was said, purchased paint from Seymour for use on a dwelling being erected by Walter Muckenthaller. The suit originally included Muckenthaller as a defendant, but was dismissed as to him.

Jones Granted Divorce

Morgan J. Jones won an interlocutory decree of divorce in Superior Judge R. Y. Williams' court, records show today, his complaint against Nina Jones being granted. Desertion was charged as ground for the action. Attorney P. J. Barnicle, of Los Angeles, represented Jones in the proceedings.

Mortgage is Foreclosed

Foreclosure of a mortgage upon 10 acres at Westminster was allowed by Superior Judge E. J. Marks late last week in the case of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Gratias against Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Sloan of Long Beach, and others. The court granted the plaintiffs judgment for $6329.57. Attorneys Scarborough, Forgy and Reinhaus, Santa Ana, represented the plaintiffs.

Winchell On Trial

Harry Winchell, of Brea, who is accused of a statutory offense against his own 15-year-old daughter, went on trial today before a jury in Superior Judge R. Y. Williams' court. Attorneys F. H. Jacobs, Brea, and O. A. Jacobs, Santa Ana, defended him. Chief Deputy District Attorney C. N. Mozley had charge of the prosecution, aided by Deputy District Attorney D. G. Wettlin. The courtroom was crowded with spectators when the trial commenced at 10 a. m. Selection of a jury occupied the morning session.

Leaves $1000 Estate

An estate valued at $1000 was left by the late Eugene N. DeVaul, Santa Ana pioneer, who died August 30, according to a petition filed today in superior court by the widow, Jessie DeVaul, asking appointment as administrator. The estate includes only personal property. The widow and one son, 7 years old, are heirs.

Sues For Cider Press

Harry King is unlawfully holding a cider press belonging to G. A. Waterman, the latter claims in a suit on file today in superior court. Waterman demands return of the press or $350 as its cash equivalent. Attorneys Head, Rutan and Scovel, Santa Ana, represent him.

HEADS OF GAS COMPANY MEET IN SANTA ANA

District managers of the Southern Counties Gas company today were in session here for their monthly conference, the business sessions of the day being held at the Santa Ana Country club.

Principal discussion centered around addresses by prominent gas men present. "Load Conditions,' was the subject of an address by A. F. Bridge, of Los Angeles, executive engineer. N. R. McKee, purchasing agent, discussed "Merchandizing" and M. R. Thompson, chief engineer, talked on "Gas Distribution."

The district managers, and other officials of the company, came here yesterday, accompanied by their wives, and were entertained by Jack Hayden, local district manager, and other officials of the Santa Office office.

The men passed most of the day playing golf at the country club, and, with their wives, were guests at a sumptuous noon day dinner.

The women were entertained by a drive through the county, Mrs. Hayden and Fred Merker directing the drive.

Officials present at the conference were Frank Bivens, general agent, Los Angeles; C. L. Ferry, power engineer; Clyde Potter, advertising manager; M. R. Thompson, chief engineer; A. F. Bridge, purchasing agent, all of Los Angeles.

District managers included J. C. Gilbert, Santa Monica; C. G. Spencer, Pomona; W. G. Rich, Whittier; Walter Keefe, Monrovia; Carl Summers, Ventura; Charles Rutledge, Santa Barbara and O. R. C. Grow, San Pedro.

J. C. Hayden, Santa Ana district manager, and Fred Merker, sales engineer in the local district, also were present.

CUT IS MADE IN OVERLAND PRICE

The announcement of a factory price of $595 on the Overland Standard sedan, two doors made over the signature of John N. Willys, yesterday, marks the most important move made by this manufacturer this year, during which he has brought the organization he heads to third place in the entire motor car industry, according to Ray SEchanahls, local Overland dealer.

"This is the second price reduction on this model in the last thirty days and brings it down to $100 lower than the selling price August 1," the dealer said.

"The delivered price on the Pacific coast and in the inter-mountain states on this model will be $799, equipped with balloon tires, $784 with cord tires and $774 with fabric tires. These low delivered costs bring a full-sized, five-passenger sedan with sliding gear transmission, honeycomb radiator and other standard equipment features into actual price competition with Ford for the first time in the history of the industry.

"Specifications make the low price even more remarkable. The doors are unusually wide and so arranged that it is not necessary to have a divided front seat, a feature which is of importance to buyers of this type of car. The front seat is 39 inches wide and 19 inches deep, roomier than those found on any other light car at any price.

"This new price, the step up in factory production, and the elaborate sales plans back of the Overland have effective put a stop to all talk of Overland abandoning the field of light, low-priced, four-cylinder cars."

SUES SHERIFF FOR DAMAGES OF $5000

In a suit on file in superior court today, Mrs. Alma W. Short, of El Modena, asks $5000 damages against Sheriff Sam Jernigan because of an attachment served upon a five-acre ranch which she claims to own.

The attachment was served by the sheriff's office in connection with a civil suit filed in Los Angeles by R. A. Weastman against Mrs. Short's husband, George Short. It was levied upon the property as belonging to Short.

According to Mrs. Short's complaint, the ranch had become her own separate property in 1919. She made formal demand upon the sheriff for release of the attachment, she states, but this was refused. Attorney L. F. Coburn, of Orange, represents her in the case.

Discharged Man Had Own Ideas About Procedure

Jose Rubalcaba, 22, decided that L. Wright, of the Irvine ranch, nor no other man could discharge him from the gang of walnut pickers working near Jeffreys corner yesterday morning, and when Wright insisted Rubalcaba is alleged to have drawn a knife on him. As a result Rubalcaba is in the Orange county jail, charged with assault, after Ed McClellan, chief criminal deputy, had been called and disarmed him.

Officers stated that Rubalcaba was drunk on marijuana and was still under the effects today.

Rubalcaba was working with a gang of walnut pickers when he began arguing with Wright, who was in charge of the group, according to a report made to the sheriff's office.

Have that family group photo made this week at Gibson's, 50 per cent discount on all sizes.

Local Banker's Name Signed To 1883 Bank Note

The name of W. E. Otis, local banker, was found signed to a $10 national bank note that is just now attracting considerable attention at Wichita, Kansas, according to a report recently published in the Wichita Beacon.

The $10 note drew notice when it was presented at a Wichita drug store, where its appearance caught the eye of a clerk. It was found that the note had been issued by the First National bank of Independence, Kansas, August 2, 1883. It bore the signatures of W. E. Otis as cashier and M. J. Paul as president of the Independence bank.

Otis is now president of the Orange County Trust and Savings bank in Santa Ana. Paul is deceased. The bank they managed has been consolidated with the Citizen's National, in Independence. But the old note, placed in circulation 43 years ago, has carried on an active career in Kansas.

It may now retire to a revered place as a relic, the Wichita clerk having announced his willingness to dispose of it as such to anyone interested.

SAYS HUSBAND FORCED HER TO 'CONFESS' LIES

Although she was driven by fear to confess infidelity that existed only in her husband's imagination, she says, Mrs. Edith E. Murphy, of Santa Ana, today repudiated her former "confession" which she says was made while her husband crushed her to the floor and held a butcher knife against her throat.

Her denial was made in a suit for separate maintenance, on file in superior court against C. J Murphy, the husband. Her complaint, filed through Attorney Morris Cain, recites a tale of sordid cruelties, ending in a squalid public camping ground, which she left afoot, taking her four children with her.

The Murphys were living at Riverside last July when the as serted butcher-knife confession was made. Murphy was always suspicious of his wife, without reason, she said. When he saw a man call at the apartment they occupied he accused his wife of being unfaithful. She explained that the man had merely called to ask regarding the renting of a room. But Murphy hurled her to the floor, poised the butcher knife at her throat and told her he would kill her unless she admitted her guilt, she declared. Thereupon she confessed to something that had not occurred, she said.

Enraged, Murphy then sought to take his wife to the police station and later summoned a detective to his apartment. Again threatened, Mrs. Murphy repeated her "confession" to the officer, she said.

Previously Murphy had threatened to kill his wife, she claimed. While they were living on Bush street, in Santa Ana, she awoke one night, she said, to find a shirt wrapped about her throat. Murphy was leaning over her and told her he was going to choke her to death, she alleged.

Following the Riverside incident Murphy took his family to Redlands and housed his wife and children in a tent at the automobile camp. There he refused to allow her to communicate with anyone. She finally procured writing material and informed her mother of her asserted predicament. But without waiting for help to come she set out one day afoot, taking the children. They walked most of the way to Riverside, she said. Now they are residing in this city.

CLAIMS PITCHFORK USED AS WEAPON

Clarence Grey, 25, Paularino, is alleged to have selected a pitchfork as a weapon, when he wanted to do battle with Louis Fleischman at the Lester Platt ranch, near Paularino yesterday morning, so Grey was arrested, charged with disturbing the peace. Today in justice court, his examining trial was set for September 15, at 10 a. m.

Ed McClellan, chief criminal deputy, arrested Grey after Fleischman swore to a warrant.

The men are alleged to have had trouble over the sale of an automobile. Grey told jailers that Fleischman started the row by attacking him with a piece of stove wood.

Grey is in the county jail because he could not give bail of $100, set by Justice Morrison.

Man Arrested In Los Angeles To Be Brought Here

Hurley Azlin, alias Hurley McCoy, wanted in Santa Ana since 1923, has been arrested in Los Angeles county, according to word received here today. Ed McClellan, chief criminal deputy, stated today that the man probably would be brought to Orange county to face charges of burglary.

Azlin was sought here in 1923 in connection with a burglary in Anaheim, McClelland said, but he escaped.

According to the report made by the Los Angeles police, a number of pistols and guns were found in the machine occupied by Azlin at the time of his arrest.

Financial and Market News

WALL ST. JOURNAL

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—With the clearing house statement showing a gain of $28,500,000, Wall street started the new week without concern regarding the supply of money available for speculative purposes.

As a matter of fact, the buying movement in various groups was fully as vigorous as anything witnessed so far this year. Expanding activities in the steel centers with a slightly stiffer price trend, gave emphasis to the upswing in this class of stocks, headed by U. S. Steel.

American Can sold at the highest levels on record and new highs on the current rise were attained by most of the active motors.

Atlantic Coast Line and Pittsburgh and West Virginia enlivened the carrier group by achieving unprecedented prices.

The market closed higher.

CHICAGO BD. OF TRADE

CHICAGO, Sept. 14.—Grain had a two way close on the board of trade today. Wheat closed slightly higher. Coarse grains were slightly lower. Short covering saved the day for wheat. The opening was easier. Toward mid session spirited selling by disappointed longs and commission houses sent prices into new lower ground on the movement. The subsequent rally induced by an oversold condition, quickly brought prices above the previous close.

Corn received poor support. It was able to recover some of the losses when wheat strengthened.

Oats trade was narrow and prices fractionally lower.

Liquidation by longs weakened provisions.

VALENCIA ORANGE MARKET IS STRONG

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Sept. 12.—(Office of the Fruit World)—The Valencia orange market has displayed strength on all sizes and grades this week. The outstanding feature of the market, however, has been the increasing strength displayed on small sizes predominate in the fruit that remains for shipment.

The well regulated shipment program that has been carried out so successfully is being reflected in the strengthening market. With tracks well cleaned up and an estimated total of around 1500 cars remaining after this week. The trade realizes that supplies from now on must necessarily be light. October 15, should see the valencia shipments practically wound up.

Lemon Market

The market on California lemons is again strong and higher, particularly throughout middle western and southern markets where rising temperature has put new life into the situation.

F. o. b. california quotations are on a basis of $8.00 to $8.50 per box for Extra Choice fruit.

There are on hand and available for sale within the next thirty days in all United States ports approximately 129 cars of foreign lemons. For the corresponding period last season there were 73 cars, 1923, 242 cars and 1922, 62 cars.

S. A. GRIDDERS BEGIN INTENSIVE PRACTICE

SPORTS OF ALL SORTS

Little Johnny Rawlings, veteran of more than a score of bitter diamond battles, is known around the National league circuit as "Lucky Johnny." Not only is there believed to be some kind of a charm attached to him but the players feel that he brings luck to any team with which he is playing.

Rawlings always seems to pop up as a star in the most critical extremes and he always delivers in the tightest crisis.

He had been in a very insignificant place on the beach of the Pittsburgh Pirates all season until the team came to New York for a series with the Giants which practically cinched the championship for the Pirates.

He had appeared in only five games all season and when he was sent out to fill in for Eddie Moore at second base, a veteran in the press box at the Polo Grounds remarked — "Rawlings? — I didn't know he was with the Pirates."

He was very much with the Pirates in that series. He won the fourth and most important game of the series with a double in a pinch and he saved the game several times with the most spectacular fielding that was reminiscent of his work in the world's series with the Giants several years ago when he was filling in at second base.

Rawlings is one of those rare money players who is worth a fortune to a ball club. Without him the Pirates might have lost the series as Max Carey, one of the big stars of the team, was out of the game and Moore was stale and had to be benched.

John McGraw's old axiom that a team is no stronger than its reserves was applied by the Pirates in that series. The Pirates were no stronger than Johnny Rawlings and Johnny was plenty strong.

TONY LAZERRE NEARS RUTH'S HOMER RECORD

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 14.—Tony Lazerre, Salt Lake infielder, bids fair to break Babe Ruth's home run record of 59.

Lazerre, who is the property of the New York Yankees, and will report to that team next spring, smashed out his 45, 46 and 47 home runs of the season, Sunday, in a double-header with Vernon.

Every homer Lazerre hits is a new Pacific Coast league record, as Tony broke Paul Strand's mark of 42 some days ago.

Lazerre has a fine chance to hit 59, according to wise baseball followers, as the Bees play several series in Bonneville park, Salt Lake City, which is the smallest park in the league.

Vernon and Salt Lake split their double header, giving each four games of the eight game series. Vernon took the first game, 9 to 2, and Salt Lake the second, 4 to 3.

Vernon goes on the road this week, starting their tour with a series against Sacramento.

The Los Angeles club comes home to Washington park after several disastrous series in the north.

BIG EGYPTIAN NEARING GOAL ON LONG SWIM

DOVER, Eng., Sept. 14.—I. Helmy, the giant Egyptian swimmer who set out from Cape Gris Nez at 6 o'clock this morning to swim to Dover was sighted by a steamer at 4:30 p. m., eight and a half miles from the cliffs on the English shore, swimming strongly with conditions favorable to success.

GRIS NEZ, France. Sept. 14.—After many postponements, waiting for favoring winds and tides, I. Helmy, Egyptian swimmer—and rescuer of women contestants for channel honors—set out from here today to swim the English channel.

At noon he was 12 kilometers from the French coast and progressing favorably.

Helmy's attempt today was in a way an answer to police suspicions that his prolonged stay had had political motives. Examined as to a possible connection with the flight of Prince Siefeddin, brother-in-law of the Egyptian king, Fuad, from England, Helmy recently swore that he had nothing to do with the matter and was merely studying channel conditions in proparation for his swim.

At 3:46 p. m. Helmy was 20 miles north of Gris Nez, swimming easily wth a strong overhead stroke.

The trans-Atlantic liner Nieu Amsterdam, steaming up the channel for Rotterdam, spied Helmy and his tug during the afternoon, whistled its salute while passengers cheered him.

This seemed to give the big Egyptian new enthusiasm and he struck out courageously for the chalky cliffs of Dover, then plainly visible, but still a long way off—as a man swims.

GOLF STARS RETURN TO ATLANTA IN TRIUMPH

PIRATES, NATS TAKES SERIES TICKET ORDERS

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—Pittsburgh and Washington have advanced so near to the pennants in the major leagues that orders for world series tickets are being taken.

This is the best way of admitting the championships have been decided because it is considered bad luck to sell tickets before you get them.

The Pirates need 11 more victories to cinch the National league pennant and the Senators are within 13 games of the American league flag.

The Pirates and the Giants have 16 more games to play and if the Pirates win 11 of them, the Giants could not beat them if they didn't lose another game for the remainder of the season.

The Senators have 19 more games to play and the Athletics have 20 more on the schedule. If the Athletics won every one of the 20 games—which would constitute a miracle as well as a record—the Senators could lose six more games and still beat out Connie Mack's youngsters.

With the Senators a cinch for the pennant, the fight between St. Louis, Detroit and Chicago for third place is holding the attention of American league fans. A few points over two games separate the three contenders.

MANY IN QUEST FOR POSITIONS ON POLY TEAM

Winterburn Optimistic But Refuses to Predict What Kind of Club He'll Have

King Football returned to his throne in Santa Ana today.

Swelling the vanguard of ambitious candidates who have been conditioning themselves for the past week, close to 25 additional prospective athletes joined Coach Charley Winterburn's ranks at Poly field this afternoon—and the local season was on in earnest.

The Poly squad now numbers above the 50 mark and by the end of the week the total, including Class C and Class B squad candidates, will be near 100, it is believed. This will make the 1925 turnout one of the largest in local football history.

Winterburn, the great Pittsburgh university quarterback of two seasons ago who is taking over the mentorial reins for the first time here, summoned his entire bunch around him at the beginning of practice and repeated the admonitions he served on the advance squad last week.

"You fellows don't know me and I don't know you but we're going to get acquainted right away," he said in part. "We've got to work as a unit or we will never get anywhere. I expect every man on this squad to give me everything he's got when he's on this football field. Those who aren't prepared to do that had better turn in their suits right now because I'd rather not have them here.

"I don't know what any of you men are capable of doing. I've never seen any of you play. Last year's performances won't count this season. It's what you do out here this fall that will count in forming our first string eleven."

Winterburn is a ready and intelligent conversationalist and he's easy to approach and talk with but there is one subject he doesn't care to discuss and that is this most frequent of all interrogations: "How about this year's squad?"

"I really don't know what I have" he said. "I won't have any idea until I see the gang in scrimmage. A fellow may look like a million dollars in practice but its the way he handles himself under fire that counts. The boy who falls on the ball most awkwardly now may develop into the gamest, smartest and most deadly tackler on the team.

"The boys seem willing and anxious to work and learn and that is what counts. We have only a few weeks to prepare for what they tell me is the hardest schedule a Santa Ana team ever attempted. This will call for work, hard work and lots of it. That's why I don't want any shirkers on my squad and won't bother with them."

BEET-TOPPERS CINCH SERIES WITH CYPRESS

Falling on Pitcher Johnson for eight runs in the "lucky seventh," the Westminster Beet-toppers overcame a long lead, defeated Cypress, 13 to 12, and took the odd game in their three game series at Midway City park yesterday afternoon.

Until that torrid spasm Johnson had hurled nicely and he certainly looked to have his ball game "in." He weakened, however, and the Beet-toppers began plugging away at him with so many timely blows that he was derricked in favor of Merv La Rue.

Wilfong, Westminster shortstop, led the savage batting assault with five blows in five times at bat. He hit a homer, a triple, a double and a brace of singles.

Roy Burns wasn't much of a puzzle to Cypress in the couple of frames that he toiled on the rubber. He was touched for four runs in the first and three more in the second. "Lefty" Garr, relieved him and was invincible until the seventh when he began to wobble. He managed to survive and hold his team's slim lead that was achieved by the sixth and seventh inning rallies.

SHIELDS TEAM BEATS IRVINE; CLAIMS TITLE

The Shields Paint company baseball team of Santa Ana today claimed the championship of Orange county following its 7 to 4 victory over the Irvine Beanpickers at Irvine yesterday afternoon. It was the fifth consecutive win over strong county teams by the Painters.

"Tex" Reister, the sensational Shields left hander, turned in another of his good performances. He held the hard swatting Beanpickers to six well scattered blows, one of them a homer by Ralph Mitchell.

Most of the Shields tallies were made by continued pecking at Archie Hawkins' offerings, the steady bombardment finally resulting in a trip to the showers for the husky Arch in the seventh. Adams, Hawkins' successor, also was hit freely.

Randolph Bell, Shields center fielder, was the day's batting hero, He got two singles and a triple in four attempts and scored two runs. Miller, Painter receiver, hit a homer to the center field fence but was called out for neglecting to touch first base on his hurried excursion around the hassocks.

Manager Woods today issued a request for members of the Shields club to meet at the Shields paint store, 610 West Fourth street, next Wednesday night at 8 o'clock.

DEMPSEY-WILLS GO ARTICLES HELD UP

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—Signing of articles for a heavyweight championship fight next summer between Jack Dempsey and Harry Wills was held up today by a difference of $35,000.

Floyd Fitzsimmons, Chicago promoter, who claims to have Dempsey signed, offered Paddy Mullins, manager of the negro, a forfeit of $65,000 if he would sign articles, but Mullins demanded $100,000.

Fitzsimmons said that Dempsey would be in Chicago September 24, ready to sign final articles.

Harry Wills Will Meet Australian

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—George Cook, Australian heavyweight, signed articles today to meet Harry Wills, negro challenger for the heavyweight title, in Newark, on September 29, it was announced today by his manager.

Piping 'Em Off

Yesterday's Hero—"Dazzy" Vance, Brooklyn's star pitcher, who shut out the Phillies with one hit last week, let them down without a hit yesterday and beat them, 10 to 1. Two errors by Jimmy Johnston prevented him from scoring a shutout. The Phillies won the second game, 7 to 3.

Kamm's single in the ninth scored the run that gave the White Sox a 4 to 3 victory over the Browns.

Al Simmons hit his 24th homer and saved the Athletics from a licking by the Senators, the game ending in the eleventh with a 6 to 6 tie.

Pittsburg's lead over the Giants was cut to six games when the Pirates dropped a double header to the Cards 8 to 4, and 6 to 2.

The Cubs couldn't do anything with Pete Donohue and the Reds won, 5 to 2.

After tying the score in the ninth with three runs, the Tigers dropped the game to the Indians in the tenth, 8 to 6.

Wingfield held the Yankees safe and the Red Sox won, 2 to 1.

Why Spend a Dollar

to Save 2 Cents?

Any woman who'd spend a dollar to save two cents on some household article would be a poor manager.

Yet many women who do the family washing each week are in the same position. Not only is the cost of washing materials and fuel considerable, the toll on their health and looks is of deep importance.

In saving a little by doing the washing a woman is spending many dollars' worth of her charm and vitality. No woman can afford to do this. Dollars are replaceable; attractiveness and energy never are.

A telephone call to us stops this drain, for our Wet Wash service washes and rinses everything at a low cost, and returns the bundle with the contents damp and clean, ready to iron, starch, or hang up to dry.

RIDER DEVOTES 4 YEARS TO LEARNING ONE TRICK

May Wirth Is Sensational Equestrienne with Big Ringling Circus

Four years spent in hard work mastering one difficult trick!

That was the triumphant achievement of May Wirth, somersaulting equestrienne of the Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey circus, who accomplishes the phenomenal feat of leaping from the ground to the bare back of her flying steed, with her feet encased in 18-inch baskets. And then, standing erect, the little rider maintains her poise, still basket-bound, while her horse gallops as fast as he can go.

It was a matter of professional conscience, as well as personal pride, that impelled Miss Wirth to accomplish this feat. She simply made up her mind to do it and she stuck stubbornly until she succeeded. In the same spirit, a virtuoso like Paderewski or an inventor like Edison attains the seemingly impossible.

It is but natural that May Wirth should have risen to fame as the supreme equestrienne of the day. By descent, she belongs to the royal race of the sawdust arena. Her father was a famous rider, her maternal grandfather was one of the first bareback riders, and her great uncle lived to hold the monopoly of the circus in Australia for half a century. Kinfolk and connections of the Wirth family are still flourishing in the Antipodes.

There are more than 70 expert equestrians with "the greatest show on earth" this season. Native-born and European riders, who have perfected their art to the highest degree, will be found enrolled on the circus roster. The Rieffenach sisters, the Ernestos, the Wirth family, Madame Ella Bradna, the Clarks and George Hannaford family are among the international celebrities who will be seen here next Thursday afternoon and night.

Westminster

WESTMINSTER, Sept. 14—A. G. Snow of Seal Beach, is building a modern flat over the store building here on Westminster avenue, formerly known as the Square Deal market. The outside of the entire building is being finished in California stucco, and will be ready for occupancy about the first of the month, at which time Mr. Snow and his family expect to take possession, opening a meat and grocery store. Mr. Snow is well known here, having been in business several years past in the building next the hotel.

Another business building for Westminster has just been completed at the corner of Cherry street and Westminster avenue by A.Brenner, of Long Beach. This building is of brick, with large plate glass windows in the three store fronts. Mr. Brenner stated today he had good prospects of leasing two of the stores to a banker and baker.

The church hall presented a pretty scene Thursday evening when members of the choir of the Presbyterian church met after choir practice there to commemorate the birthdays of Miss Fern Byram, Miss Ruby Arnett, Miss Lottie Knox and Howard Bould, and Clifford Rhea, whose birthdays occur in September. The tables were strewn with smilax, dotted here and there with blue and gold flowers, and in the center was a birthday cake covered with candles, while at each place was a tiny individual candlestick. Silver candlesticks holding larger candles and yellow pumpkins serving as vases for golden glow, completed the beauty of the tables, and produced a lovely effect when all the candles were lighted. Guests were: Mrs. Olive Rhea, Miss Fern Rhea, Douglass Grandy, Misses Ruby and Lillian Arnett, Miss Grace Greschner of Balboa, Mrs. I. W. Bould, Howard Bould, Mrs. H. B. Anderson, Miss Virginia Anderson, Mrs. O. B. Byram, Miss Fern Byram, Mrs. T. E. Turpin, Rev. and Mrs. R. A. Weld, Nelson Barry, Mrs. W. B. McCoy, Miss Helen McCoy and Doyle Stockton.

Grammar school opened here Tuesday morning with 164 pupils registered as follows: First and second grades, Miss Helena Dimmock, 38 pupils, of which 27 are beginners; third and fourth, Mrs. Mary F. Thomason, 37 pupils; fifth and sixth, Mrs. Marjorie Fox, 38 pupils; seventh, Miss Irma Payton, 30 pupils; eighth, Mrs. Ora L. Schieber, teacher and principal, 21 pupils. Miss Myra Evans and Miss Jessie McCoy have the Mexican children, but very few yet have responded to the call of books and pencil, being at work in the fields.

Dr. Richard Foster, recently elected trustee, spoke at the opening assembly, with a word of welcome for the teachers and children. The desks throughout the school have been refinished at considerable cost to the board, and the children were asked to refrain from marring them.

Mrs. William Settle was prettily complimented Wednesday afternoon when she was given a shower at the home of Mrs. C. C. Murdy. After numerous dainty gifts had been unwrapped, tables were arranged for games of 500, at which Mrs. C. C. Murdy scored for the first prize and Mrs. H. H. Curtis received the consolation. Hostesses were Mrs. Robert Falcke, Mrs. H. H. Curtis and Mrs. S. M. Carter. Guests were Mrs. Alice Hare, Mrs. Harry Mansperger, Mrs. Floyd Morris, Mrs. James R. Morgan, Mrs. Lora Hilderbrand, Mrs. George Whitcomb, Mrs. C. C. Murdy and Mrs. William Settle, honoree. Refreshments were served after the games.

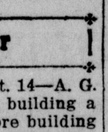

A great majority of Westminster and vicinity women will be interested, or at least curious, about a message given out today by Mrs. L. E. Barry, president of the Happy Workers, an organization here of over 60 members. Mrs. Barry said today that every member of the society is urged to attend the next meeting, for reasons to be kept a secret. It seems that one will have to attend the meeting to find out what it will be about. An added attraction, she said, is a program, which will be given under the direction of Mrs. Reuben Edwards. The society's meeting day is the fourth Wednesday of each month.

STATE LEGION IN CONVENTION AT CATALINA

More than 25 members of Santa Ana post No. 131, American Legion, accompanied by a dozen members of the Legion auxiliary, left here early today for Avalon, Catalina island, to attend the state convention of the American Legion and auxiliary to be held there this week.

They will be met on the island by approximately 20 members of the Orange county organization of the Les Societe des 40 Hommes et 8 Chevaux, which opened its convention Saturday afternoon. This convention closes tonight, to make ready for the opening of the state department convention of the Legion at Avalon tomorrow morning.

The American Legion auxiliary will hold its convention at the same time as does the Legion.

Wilbur Getty, commander of Post 131, is at the head of the Santa Ana Legion delegation, and Mrs. Eugene Robinson headed the delegation of auxiliary members.

Joseph Plank, newly-elected Chef de Gare of the Orange county "40 and 8," returned to Santa Ana today, after spending Saturday and Sunday at the convention. He asserted that Avalon had completely surrendered to the thousands of ex-service men and women who are landing on every boat, and that the scene of the convention is one of enthusiasm.

Sixty American Legion posts of Los Angeles county are acting as hosts for this year's convention and delegates have reported from all parts of California. It is expected the 1925 convention will be the largest ever held by the Legion in California.

Opening ceremonies tomorrow will be marked by a tribute to departed comrades when the Legionnaires will observe 30 seconds of silence. The opening address will be made by Frank G. Falloon, chairman of the convention committee, and the principal address will be made by V. S. McClatchy, secretary of the California joint immigration committee.

During the business session, reports will be made on work of the California state welfare board, child's welfare, inter-post relations and Americanism. Election of officers will be held Thursday afternoon.

MAN WANTED HERE ARRESTED IN L. A.

With the arrest in Los Angeles late Friday of Jefferson T. Said, 34, charged with forgery, Orange county authorities are winding up their drive on a gang of alleged forgers who are said to have sold fictitious tickets to the San Juan Capistrano rodeo on September 6th. Said was brought to jail here Saturday by Deputy Jailer Clyde Flower, who has been working on the case for several days.

Three other men, Louis Kazatsky, Ben Facter and Natt Lazar are in the county jail, following their arrest on September 7, in connection with the alleged plot. They are all charged with contributing to the delinquency of minors in hiring several small boys to sell alleged fictitious tickets. The last three have been arraigned, and their examining trials set for 2 p. m. September 18 in Justice Jack Landell's court, at Capistrano

Said also will be given a hearing at Capistrano.

El Modena

EL MODENA, Sept. 14.—The trustees and teachers of the El Modena Grammar school enjoyed a picnic at the beach this Friday, much to the joy of the pupils, who of course, received a holiday. The picnic was held for the purpose of discussing school problems and getting better acquainted with each other, thus aiding the coming school year to run more smoothly.

Earl Murray, who formerly taught in Tustin, is teaching in the Santa Barbara High school this year. School has been going on up there for two weeks. Mr. Murray is the son of Mrs. Ella Haydon of El Modena.

Rev. Ray Carter, former pastor of the Friends church, and Mrs. Carter, were visiting friends here Thursday. They have been visiting with Mrs. Carter's parents in Whittier the past few weeks, and will soon return to Imperial, where Rev. Carter has been preaching the past year in the Union church there.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Proud, of Kansas, called at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Hayden here last Monday evening. They were friends and neighbors in Kansas.

Newport Beach was the scene of a birthday supper for W. H. Marion, father of Mrs. I. F. McCollum, last Monday evening. Mr. Marion is 90 years old.

The family of Mrs. Ella Hayden held a reunion at her home last Sunday. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Owen Murray and family from the Irvine ranch, Mr. and Mrs. Verl Murray and family of Monrovia, and Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Paddock and family of El Modena.

The W. C. T. U. met at the home of Mrs. George Carleton Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. A resume was given of the work done during the past year, and plans were discussed for the coming year. The officers of the past year were re-elected. They are: Mrs. Charles Blanchar, president; Mrs. Clara Hodson, first vice president; Mrs. Clara Jones, second vice president; Mrs. Lena McCollum, secretary; Mrs. Ella Hayden, treasurer, and Mrs. Townsend corresponding secretary. There were eight members present.

Miss Dessa Taylor, daughter of Mrs. Lena McCollum, has returned from a trip into Washington. She visited her cousin in Tacoma. She is now teaching at the Second street school, Boyle Heights, Los Angeles.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Adams was the scene of a jolly birthday party last Thursday evening, held in honor of the Messrs. Earl and Glen Wilson of Orange. The time was whiled away with very noisy games, and the cutting of two huge watermelons made a most satisfactory end to the fun. Those present were: Mrs. W. A. Settle and daughters, Henrietta and Hazel; Mrs. Lois Wilson and children, Earl, Loyd, Grace, and Glen; and the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Adams, and daughters, May and Eva.

Mr. and Mrs. Griff Dickerson, of Springfield, Mo., were visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. I. F. McCollum the past week. The two families had not seen each other for 35 years. Mr. and Mrs. Dickerson motored out from Missouri, stopping at several points in Washington to visit friends.

Mr. and Mrs. I. F. McCollum and Mr. Henry Marion, brother of Mrs. McCollum, motored to Escondido last Wednesday for the grape festival.

The Messenger girls of the Friends church enjoyed a very pleasant day at the park last week. They and their teacher, Miss Hazel Barnett hiked up to the Orange county park in the morning and the Rev. Coburn, pastor of the Friends church here, brought them home in the evening in his auto. Those lucky ones that were able to go were Muriel Lutz, Lois Coburn, Francis Curl, Cecil Snyder, and Mary Hanson.

Mrs. Bessie Dominguez was taken to the county hospital Friday. She is very ill.

Mrs. A. Y. Davis is much improved. She has been bedfast for some time, but is able to get about the house now.

Mrs. Coburn, the pastor's wife, visited in Whittier Wednesday. Rev. Coburn attended a business meeting of the Huntington Park Training school last Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Willis Perkins and sons, Warren and Leon, have rented a cottage at Newport Beach and intend to stay for two weeks. They motored down last Wednesday.

Friday evening the young peoples Sunday school class of the Friends church gave a farewell party to those of their number who are going away to college and to teach. It was in the form of a lawn party and was held at the Lone Pine ranch at the corner of Alameda and Chapman streets. They played games on the lawn until they were all tired out, then adjourned to the living room of the pretty home of Mr. and Mrs. Paddock, where Miss Mary Brubaker entertained them with some beautiful selections on the piano. Cake and punch were served for refreshments.

Present were Miss Mary and Josephine Brubaker, Miss Hazel Barnet, Miss Florence Carleton, Miss Freda Tosh, Miss Greer,, Mr. Ritchie Barnet, and the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Paddock, and children, Lyniviere, and Elden. Mr. Paddock is the teacher of the Young People's class.

Our Neighbors

LONG BEACH.—With committees named, plans for the parade and other activities completed, and with every civic and fraternal organization and school in the city pledged to co-operate, the observance of Girls' Week in Long Beach, to be held September 27 to October 3, is expected to set a record for such celebrations. The program as carried out in the beach city will be duplicated in every city in the United States where there is a Co-operative club, the organization which is sponsoring the Girls' Week movement.

ESCONDIDO.—Escondido firmly established herself as hostess Wednesday when she gave away 10 tons of grapes to thousands of visitors from all over Southern California. It was by far the finest Grape day ever celebrated in the inland valley city, and the crowd was larger than on any previous Sept. 9. From early morning until noon the highways were flooded with automobiles—all headed Escondido-wards. Shortly after noon a few of the pleasure seekers—those who lived farthest away—started homeward, but it was not until late afternoon that many motorists began to think of leaving, while thousands remained until after the Coronation ball.

MONROVIA.—Visions of a future city of huge proportions, combining Monrovia, Arcadia, Sierra Madre, Duarte and perhaps other adjacent communities were seen by local realtors at a joint meeting of Monrovia and Arcadia realtors. Frederick Vance Evans started agitation of the question while presiding at the meeting of the realtors, and the suggestion met instantaneous approval. Thomas R. Hayes stated that such a perspective, as outlined some months ago by Montaville Flowers, is not out of the question, and said that he did not care whether the combined city should be known as Mon-Arc or Arc-Rovia, but that he favored a union of the communities when the proper time arrived.

FRESNO.—America spends more money than any other nation excepting Great Britain to keep her flying forces in first class condition, Representative H. E. Barbour of the Seventh California district, told members of the association of the army.

REDLANDS.—The American Legion of Redlands will do its best to put this city on the map in large letters at the state convention of the Legion in Catalina, Sept. 15, 16 and 17. In addition to the attendance of Legionnaires and Auxiliary members, the bugle and drum corps, organized six months ago, will be strikingly present. Fourteen members are in this organization, and the last several weeks have been put in on intensive practice of the instruments and stunts that will be given for the edification of the state attendance and the advancement of the local post. The drummers are led by Glenn Pry, and will wear white duck trousers, caps and shoes, and uniform coats. Other drummers are Dick Lackey, Donald Hunt, Walter Seavy, John L. Kline, Wilson Spoor.

Ford Planes Will Carry U. S. Mail

DETROIT, Sept. 14.—Through an agreement reached Tuesday between Henry Ford and Postmaster General Harry S. New, Ford airplanes are expected to be carrying mail between Detroit and Chicago within a few weeks. The Ford company has been operating a daily schedule on its air freight line between Detroit and Chicago for several months.

Those Winning Smiles

which mean so much . . . commercially, socially, are gained this new way with gleaming, white teeth

Don't believe your teeth are "naturally" dull. Just accept this 10-day test. See how dazzling white teeth and healthy gums come when film coats go.

HERE is a simple test that proves the truth of the recent dental statement that dull, "off-color" teeth can be lightened amazingly, given dazzling whiteness.

In a few days you can work a great change in the color of your teeth. Can give them clear and charming gleam.

There is a new way in tooth and gum care. A way that removes the dingy film that clouds your teeth. A film that absorbs discolorations and keeps teeth dingy looking.

Just run your tongue across your teeth. And you will feel that film. It is the great enemy of pretty teeth and healthy gums.

It clings to the teeth, gets into crevices and stays. It forms a breeding place for germs. It lays your gums open to bacterial attack, your teeth open to decay. Those germs, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea.

Old-time methods failed in successfully fighting film. So ugly teeth were common. You must remove it. Ordinary brushing won't do it satisfactorily. Under it are the clear, whiter teeth you envy in others.

Now modern science has perfected an effective film combatant, called Pepsodent. It acts to curdle film, then removes it. It firms and protects gums; beautifies teeth quickly and correctly.

"The price must be cut to $595 but I want every one of these new features included!"

John N. Willys

President, Willys-Overland Co.

$595 f. o. b. Toledo

Such was the President's order. RESULT? A new-day automobile—at a price unbelievable until today. Full-size-5-passenger; sliding-gear transmission, at less than $600—for the first time in all history.

Here are the high-spots. Check them with any car you know selling anywhere near the price. Then ask yourself—"In what other light car can I even approximate this phenomenal $595 value?"

A full-size, 5-passenger Sedan

—room to spare for 5 regular people . . . a smartly designed car, clean-cut, rakish, low, extraordinarily good-looking! . . . polished lacquer finish, rich deep blue with glistening jet-black trimmings, as handsome a light car as anybody ever looked at. Women love it!

A 27-horsepower engine

Sturdy, fast, reliable, all the power you need to carry you 50 miles or 50,000. A noble hill-climber. A quieter engine with fewer working parts. 20-to-25 miles to the gallon of gas, often more—light on oil—hundreds of letters from Overland owners report as high as 15,000 miles without a dollar spent for engine upkeep!

Sliding gear transmission

Three speed, selective, sliding-gear transmission—at the lowest price ever available in a light Sedan! Borg and Beck disc type clutch—one of the finest clutches made; Auto-Lite starting, lighting and ignition—a rear axle system equal to that used in cars carrying double the weight of this one; Axle shafts of Molybdenum steel, the toughest steel known. In the entire three years in which Overland has used this axle system there is no case on record where an axle has ever been broken!

Extra big doors

—extra wide, easy entrance and exit to both front and rear seats. Each door has four extra heavy hinges—these doors are built to stand punishment!

Wider seats

—the widest of any light car built! New single-piece, undivided front seat, 39 inches wide, 19 inches deep. Wider back seat—45 inches wide, 18 inches deep. No match-box effect. No crowding!

Big, wide windows

—more than 20 square feet of window space—all the air and all the broad, uninterrupted vision of a touring car.

Latest one-piece windshield —especially valuable in night-driving. Gives clear, unobstructed vision. You can always see where you're going. More easily adjusted—you don't have to fuss with it. Adds greatly to the car's appearance.

Chassis

—a strong, rigid frame with plenty of bracing; springs of Chrome Vanadium steel, the finest and strongest spring steel known to engineering—every leaf in each spring is genuine Chrome Vanadium; the same material you will find in the world's finest automobiles!

We challenge any owner in America to point out wherein this $595 Overland can be duplicated for quality or for up-to-the-minute equipment, or for dollar-for-dollar value.

Step in and see this car. Ride in it—know the comfort of it. Drive it yourself—feel the ease of it, the power of it.

Easy terms. Only a small amount down. 18 months for the balance. Trade in your present car as part payment.

EXPLORE TOMBS OF MOUND BUILDERS

CHILLICOTHE, O., Sept. 14.—Colorful costumes of 2000 years ago were found in the magnificent Pearl-strewn tombs of Mound Builders near here, Prof. H. C. Shetrone, curator of the Ohio museum, said today.

Knee-high royal tunics of intricate designs were found near four skeletons—probably two men and two women of royal lineage.

On the walls and floors are "more pearls than the United States will produce in a decade," Shetrone declared.

Over the skeletons was a huge canopy of logs, uprights and cross pieces over which a less permanent roof work had been built. The logs had rotted and turned to carbon, but were solid enough to be removed in large pieces.

Many tortoise shell ornaments were found in the ancient burial. All were intricately etched and polished, the prevalent design being those of birds.

The findings also indicated the dwellers who buried their dead in those tombs were peaceable. No weapons were found.

Westminster

WESTMINSTER, Sept. 14.—At the Odd Fellow's hall Tuesday evening, a sumptuous chicken supper marked the event of Mr. and Mrs. George B. Clough entering the Rebekah lodge here. After the initiation, the supper was served in the banquet hall at tables made lovely with many flowers.

H. O. Chamberlain, who recently underwent an operation at the Seaside Hospital in Long Beach, has been removed to his home here to recuperate. During his illness, many old friends have visited him, among them being Ray Snodgrass of Yakima, Wash., Fred Long and John McClure, of Los Angeles. The last named were friends when all lived in Colorado Springs.

$60,000 CHURCH TO BE ERECTED AT COSTA MESA

COSTA MESA, Sept. 14.—Plans for building a new $60,000 church building here have been approved by the official board of the Costa Mesa Community church. The new edifice is to be located on property owned by the church on Nineteenth street, between Newport boulevard and Fairview avenue.

The church board decided on the step when the offer of $7500 was accepted for the three lots on which the old church building now stands.

According to the provisions of the sale, the present building, located at Fairview avenue and Newport boulevard, must be moved in 60 days.

No definite construction program has been announced for the new church building but church officers said that the structure would be beautifully furnished and sufficiently large to care for the needs of the community for many years.

It is expected that the old church building will be moved to the site where the new church is to be erected. It is to be used until the $60,000 edifice is completed.

The lots where the church now is located were purchased by G. W. Nicholaus of Iowa. He announced no plans but it is said that he contemplates the building of a large brick business building on the location.

SOCIETY NOTES FROM ANAHEIM

ANAHEIM, Sept. 14.—Mrs. Harry D. Riley has returned from a 10-day vacation trip spent at Coronado where she visited her mother and friends.

Mrs. W. J. Jewell and daughter, Miss Mary, are visiting friends in San Diego.

Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Thompkins and son, Harold, and Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Snyder, have returned from a jolly trip into Arrowhead park.

Mr. and Mrs. P. B. Lampman, of Brookhurst avenue, left Monday by automobile for New York. They expect to be gone about three months.

Miss Helen Druns, of Sunkist avenue, is entertaining her cousin, Miss Mary Elizabeth Cridaro, of Santa Ana. Miss Cridaro arrived Wednesday and plans to spend the week-end with her friend.

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Patch left Thursday for a vacation trip to the Grant National park. They will return about October 1.

Miss Helen Marburger left early this week for Washington State college at Pullman, where she has accepted a teaching fellowship in chemistry. Miss Marburger expects to receive her master's degree after completing a two years' course. She is a graduate of Oregon Agricultural college, class of '25.

News Notes From Cypress

CYPRESS, Sept. 14.—The young folk, under the leadership of Miss Charlotte Bingham, gave a benefit entertainment at the school hall last night for the Cub baseball team. The entertainment was entirely of local home talent and was one of the best shown here for years. "A Girl to Order" was a playlet well acted and brought out many very amusing situations. A negro minstrel troupe next entertained and many of the local people were the basis of some very amusing jokes. Dot and Mae Bingham impersonated the "Gold Dust" twins and their dancing made a decided hit.

A newly organized orchestra furnished music for dancing after the entertainment. This orchestra bids fair to become one of the popular dance orchestras of north Orange counay. The personnel is: Roy Higgens, banjo; S. Harter, saxophone; Mae Priddy, piano, and H. Miles, drums.

A tidy sum was turned over to the Cub management.

C. L. Barnett and M. M. Carpenter comprise the Santa Barbara relief fund committee. They have met with a good response so far.

R. C. Cawthon has purchased two lots on South Lahoma street and will begin the erection of a modern residence soon. The deal was consummated through the Priddy & Sconce realty firm.

Ed Flader has purchased the M. Miller dairy herd. The herd numbers 18 choice dairy cows. Mr. Flader had 13 head and his late purchase will put him in a position to take care of his growing retail trade.

Arthur Pitts is erecting a residence on his property in Artesia, where he expects to move as soon as the home is completed.

Order Audit Of Books At Anaheim

ANAHEIM, Sept. 14.—Further steps towards modernizing all departments of the city administration were taken at a recent meeting of the board of trustees, when a general audit of the present bookkeeping system and the installation of a modern machine system was ordered.

J. W. Price reported that the present bookkeeping system is obsolete and that losses totaling many thousands of dollars yearly have occurred in the light and water departments all because of inefficient bookkeeping methods.

ANAHEIM CHIEF TO CUT STAFF ON OCTOBER 1

ANAHEIM, Sept. 14.—Two men are to be dropped from the Anaheim police force October 1, when plans of reorganization, announced today by Chief J. S. Martin, become effective.

The present strength of the force is 14 men, including the chief, but Martin declares that the city can be satisfactorily patroled and protected with the smaller force.

The position of desk sergeant will be abolished, the chief himself serving in this capacity. A new feature of the department as it is to be reorganized will be the delegating of one of the patrolmen to act as garbage inspector.

PERSONAL NOTES FOR TUSTIN FOLK

TUSTIN, Sept. 14.—Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Jackson and family of Petersburg, Ill., accompanied by Mrs. J. Votsmier and daughter, Virginia, of Franklin, Ill., are guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Preston. Mr. and Mrs. Jackson expect to make their home in Santa Ana.

Theron Sauers left this week for Los Angeles where he will enter the University of Southern California as a sophomore.

Miss Thelma Artz and Miss Ida Thorman spent Thursday in Los Angeles arranging for entrance to the University of Southern California.

Miss Marjorie Wallace and Miss Ethel Coleman of Long Beach, and Miss Amanda Chambers of Anaheim, spent part of this week visiting Miss Elizabteh McDougall. The group motored to La Jolla, where they spent Wednesday as the guests of Miss Josephine Free.

Miss Lorna Allen was the hostess to a number of friends with an outdoor party and weiner bake at her home. Following the weiner bake, the group enjoyed various games. Those present were the Misses Marion Crookshank, Frances Bowman, Caroline Ferrey, and the hostess, Miss Lorna Allen.

Ed Bowman of Pasadena was in Tustin this week on business.

Mr. and Mrs. Claud Martin of Hemet were visitors at the homes of a number of Tustin friends this week. They were returning home after a vacation spent at Newport Beach. Mr. and Mrs. Martin were former residents of Tustin.

Mrs. E. C. Means of Hollywood, and Bess Clark of Placentia, who have been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. McDougall, returned to their homes this week.

Mrs. A. H. Allen and Miss Ida Mitchell of this city have returned home from a three months' tour of the eastern part of the United States and Canada.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Wilson and daughters, Mirtie and Ruth, are spending several days in San Diego.

Mrs. Alta Brown of Puente is a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Shoemaker.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Squires and daughter, Mary Ellen, motored to Huntington Beach Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Columbus Vinson and Wayne Vinson of Beaumont returned home Tuesday after spending several days as the guests of Mrs. Alice Fewell.

Mr. and Mrs. William E. Snider motored to Los Angeles Wednesday.

NEW PLAN OF INSTRUCTION BEGINS TODAY

COST MESA, Sept. 14.—A record enrollment was predicted for the Costa Mesa school today by Principal Dale Evans. More than 300 students are expected.

For the first time, a system of departmental instruction will be started in the upper grades. Teachers are to give special instruction in certain fields.

Principal Evans expressed the belief that the school here would show a marked increase in enrollment this year.

GIRL LIFE GUARD ENTERS COLLEGE

NEWPORT BEACH, Sept. 14.—Miss Axia Goodykoontz, 18-year-old Newport Beach life guard, is going to go through college if she has to work her way.

She has left here to enter the University of California, Southern Branch, for her first year in college.

This summer, Axia was recommended by the city board of trustees for a Carnegie education endowment to reward her heroic action in diving to the bottom of the 20-foot channel in Newport bay in an attempt to save two drowned youths.

It was during the July holidays that the drowning accident occured. Axia was rushed to the scene but not soon enough to save the lives of the Stanford brothers.

The request that a fund be provided for the heroine to complete her college work is now before the Carnegie commission. Little hope is held out that the investigation can be completed in less than a year.

Until the educational fund is received, she will support herself by working while going to college. Already she has made arrangements for this year.

New El Modena Teacher Former Arizona Official

EL MODENA, Sept. 14.—Mrs. Kate B. Reynolds, the new teacher of the sixth and seventh grades at the Lincoln Grammar school here, led a very interesting life as county superintendent of Pima county, Arizona. She also was a member of the state board of education of Arizona for the past four years. In her work as county superintendent of schools, she had charge of 34 schools and 56 rural teachers. She says that her pupils were 90 per cent Mexicans, and a few Yaqui Indians from over the border. This tribe is not taken care of by the government. Mrs. Reynolds attended the state university at Tucson last semester and Berkeley this summer.

Bolsa

BOLSO, Sept. 14.—Louis Baeur is taking a ten days' vacation from the Bolsa store. With his family, he is spending a part of the time visiting relatives and friends.

A son was born Thursday at the Santa Ana Valley hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Glade Fuller of this place.

A beach picnic was enjoyed Tuesday by members of the Bolsa Sunday school at Huntington Beach. Twenty-five participated in the outing, which included a basket dinner.

Mrs. J. D. Shutt and granddaughter, Miss Esther Radford, returned Tuesday from Newport Beach, where they visited a friend, Mrs. S. N. Naylor. Mrs. Shutt was accompanied home by Mrs. M. C. Blackshade and little Betty Jean Blackshade.

Gerald Price went to Los Angeles, where Wednesday he registered at the California Christian college, which he will attend this term.

Mrs. George Harding and two young sons have returned from a visit of several days at Saugus, where they were guests of Mrs. Harding's brother and sister and their families.

Mrs. Earl Gardner and daughters spent Wednesday with the former's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John Shutt jr.

The Misses Bessie and Margaret Gardner entered high school at Garden Grove Monday.

Mrs. L. Bushere of Los Angeles has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Ave Ross this week.

The thresher belonging to Ed Chaffee and Roy Oldfield of Garden Grove began the season's threshing at the Frank Walker ranch Thursday. The majority of the local bean crops will be threshed by the Garden Grove outfit.

Mrs. Sterling Price and daughters, Shirley and Wilma, Mrs. John Willingham and daughter, Betty June, motored to Long Beach Wednesday, where Betty June remained with her aunt, Mrs. John Baker, for the day while the remainder of the party went in to Los Angeles.

Educators of the middle ages classed the seven liberal arts as grammar, dialetics, rhetoric, music, arithmetic, geomtry and astronomy.

VISITS MEXICO

Whitefield Studio

Here is Miss Druzilla Mackey, head of the Americanization department of the Fullerton high school ,who has returned home after spending the summer in old Mexico.

HIGH SCHOOL TEACHER HOME FROM MEXICO

FULLERTON, Sept. 14.—Not only the unusual features of studying at the University of Mexico, but the added experiences of a stay among relatives of local Mexicans, are being described by Miss Druzilla Mackey, head of the Americanization department of the Fullerton Union High school, who has just returned from a summer's stay in old Mexico. With Miss Mackey was Miss Geneva Johnson, head of the Spanish department of the local high school, who made the trip south with her. Miss Arletta Klahn and Miss Martha Ehlen, teachers in the Spanish department under Miss Johnson, as well as Franklin Salveson were other local students at the university.

Miss Mackey had letters of introduction to Mrs. Shavez of Mexico City, a sister of Francisco Espanio, La Habra sculptor, whose statues she found in various churches of Mexico, and to friends of Mrs. Lyle Wickersheim, prominent Americanization worker in Los Angeles. She was entertained at many native homes, and learned much of the customs of the Mexican people. This knowledge she anticipates will be of great help to her in understanding the Mexican immigrants of this vicinity with whom she is associated.

Miss Mackey considers her trip to Guan Juato, a little mountain village near Mexico City, the most fascinating experience of her vacation. This little town has been described in many different ways, some visitors seeing in it a resemblance to the Holy Land, and others thinking it similar to Italy.

The village, says Miss Mackey, is built of tiny houses, one practically on top of the other. They are painted in vivid hues of pink and blue, and have tiled or thatched roofs. The public well is the only water system, and the natives carry jugs, which are beautiful pieces of pottery, to and from the well on their heads or shoulders. They are fond of bright colors and their shawls are very gay.

A weird journey to a cemetery high in the mountains, where bodies are placed in a vault for a period of five years, is recalled by the local traveler. At the end of the five years, the remains become petrified, according to Miss Mackey, and the relatives either continue to rent space in the vault for the departed, or dispose of them in some other way. Visitors go down a long passageway lighted by candles, into the crypt where a number of the ossified mummies are kept standing along the wall, like those Burns referred to in "Tom O'Shanter."

Miss Mackey's work as Americanization director in the Mexican camps of northern Orange county has been interesting and picturesque from its inception. She was engaged when the La Habra Citrus association decided that someone must live in the camp to prevent the many quarrels, strikes and even occasional murders which were keeping the Mexicans in a turmoil. Miss Mackey was then doing similar work in Los Angeles.

She found the La Habra camp unbelievably dirty and quarrelsome, with only two forks in the whole camp of some 600 people. Yards were filthy, children ill, and wives miserable. She first taught the women cleanliness, and later domestic science. The men were enrolled in the English classes, and proved as eager to learn as children.

So remarkable was the progress made under her supervision, that when Mexican Independence day approached, she declared herself capable of handling the situation which had previously taxed the resources of all available authorities. In spite of their warnings, she refused the assistance of deputies, and kept the camp quiet, the inhabitants enjoying a splendid fiesta for three days with no drunkenness or disturbance.

EXPECT 1600 ENROLLMENT AT ANAHEIM

ANAHEIM, Sept. 14.—School bells for the grammar school students of Anaheim rang this morning when the new fall term opened at all the city schools. Though registration count has not yet been completed, it is expected that a slight increase will be shown this year over last, according to Superintendent Melbourne A. Gauer. Whereas 1490 pupils were enrolled during the 1924-25 term, approximately 1600 are expected to be received this year.

The physical education department will be in charge of Samuel Ernest Luce, until recently connected with the University of Southern California, in place of Bruce Maxwell, of San Diego, as was previously announced. Mr. Maxwell had been appointed to the position but before his contract had reached him, signed a contract with a San Diego school.

Mr. Luce is a graduate of Heidelberg university of Tiffin, O., and has taken special work at Ohio State university. A much expanded physical program is planned for this year, Mr. Gauer announced this morning.

NEWPORT BEACH STUDENTS ENROLL

NEWPORT BEACH, Sept. 14.—Schools opened here today with the expectation that the record for enrollment would be passed. According to Horace Ensign, principal, preparations are being made to enroll more than 250 students.

The increased enrollment is declared to be due to the growth of the harbor district. Many improvements have been made this summer for the school term opening today.

La Habra

LA HABRA, Sept. 14.—Two outstanding features were in evidence at the first meeting of the new year for the Woman's club of La Habra. One was voting $25 for the Santa Barbara relief fund, and the other having Mrs. A. P. Nelson, county president of the Orange County Federation of Woman's club, as an honored guest at the luncheon and speaker for the meeting afterwards.

Mrs. Nelson, with a gracious personality, charmed her hearers. Her talk was informal but very instructive. She brought a message from the state convention, outlining the work as laid down by Dr. Bartola, state president. Quoting from the state chairmen, she brought home to the members the need of co-operation, harmony, kindness, personality and unity. She urged the club to work for the greater good of the individual, and above all, to obey all the laws, as only in that way could one be a good, American citizen. Much needed information in regard to future work and programs was gleaned by the club chairmen. Mrs. W. M. Snow presided.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Jackson, who have been visiting their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Sturdevant, of College avenue, and their son, Dr. W. E. Jackson, and family of Brea, left for their home in Fort Worth Texas, Wednesday. Prior to their departure, they were entertained at dinner at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Sturdevant. Sunday evening, a musical was given in their honor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Marston of Stewart station. Included in the group were Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Blair, Mr. and Mrs. Sturdevant and their parents and Dr. and Mrs. Jackson of Brea.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Walker of North La Habra Heights motored to Sacramento and attended the state fair. From there, they went to the ranch home of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Balcom, former residents of La Habra.

Clarence McBride, who has lived in La Habra for the past three years, surprised his friends by making a honeymoon tour of his vacation. Mr. McBride went home to Springdale, Ark., to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. A. McBride, and to enter into the bonds of matrimony with his school chum and sweetheart, Miss Blanch Camden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Camden of the home town. The ceremony was performed at the Methodist parsonage, Rev. I. Brumley reading the marriage lines. The young couple were attended by Miss Bernice Young and Clarence McBride. Afterwards a reception was held at the home of the bride. Mr. and Mrs. McBride left immediately for California. They will be at home on East Florence avenue. Mr. McBride is an employe of the Standard Oil company and is stationed at Santa Fe Springs.

J. D. Le Bard and Frank Le Bard and family, uncle and cousin of Mrs. Howard Ludy, surprised them Saturday. They motored down from Filmore and remained over the week end.

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Sept. 14.—Manufacturing machinery, valued at more than $80,000, and weighing more than 1000 tons, is scheduled to arrive at Orange county harbor in Newport Bay within the next few months, according to announcement by F. H. Yetman, president of the Rubber Products Company of America, who left recently for the east to purchase machinery for the company plant here.

Yetman will purchase the machinery in the east and ship it by water to Orange county harbor. The arrival of the machinery in the Orange county port will be a feather in the cap of harbor advocates, as it will be a big step toward the realization of a commercial harbor.

The rubber company, which has purchased the building and grounds formerly occupied by the California National Supply company, will start operations at once. Some machinery has already been installed. As soon as the new machinery arrives, the company will begin manufacturing to its full capacity to fill orders. A floor covering similar to linoleum will be made from old automobile tires. The company has perfected a process by which rubber and fabric in worn out tires may be utilized.

DEPUTY TO VISIT BEACH MACCABEES

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Sept. 14.—Mrs. Julie C. Ginn, deputy great commander of the Woman's Benefit Association of the Maccabees will be the guest of the local organization of the order next Wednesday, it was announced today. The visit of the state executive will be observed by a special program staged by the local group.

Installation of two officers and initiation of several new members of the lodge will be features of the meeting. Mrs. Mary E. Reed, junior commander, and Mrs. Rose Miller, sergeant, are the two officers to be installed.

The meeting will be held at the Antlers hall. A special committee has been placed in charge of a short program which will be given following the regular work.

LEGION POST TO TAKE IN MEMBERS

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Sept. 14.—Initiation of several new members and the laying of final plans for sponsoring a show at a local motion picture house will take place at the meeting of the American Legion, Joseph Rodman post No. 133, here tonight, it was announced today by Jack Robertson, commander.

The legion group will meet at the headquarters of the organization on Third street. Instructions will be given to delegates who will represent the ex-service men of this city at the convention at Catalina Island this month. Six delegates to the convention will leave tomorrow. The convention will be in session until Sept. 17. T. C. Vincent, James Ross, Herbert Gray, L. E. Mitchell, L. W. Blodget and Jack Robertson are the delegates.

J. D. Critton To Construct Home On Eighth Street

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Sept. 14.—Building permits jumped here today with the issuance of a permit to J. D. Critton, of this city, who will erect a handsome residence at 326 Eighth street. The building will be a five room affair and will cost $2500. I. C. Warner is the contractor.

Residences are much in demand here, according to city building inspector E. M. Billings. Last month permits were issued for the erection of seven new houses.

W. R. C. to Discuss Winter Activities

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Sept. 14.—Plans for the winter work of the Woman's Relief corps will be laid at a meeting of the organization in the Woman's clubhouse tomorrow afternoon. Mrs. Minnie Higgins, president of the group, will be in charge of the meeting. A special program has been arranged by a committee.

Retail Sales In Year Show Gain

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 14.—Retail trade conditions in the twelfth federal reserve district show uniform gains over sales of a year ago, according to a federal reserve bank statement.

Percentage gain for the district as a whole was 3.7. For California the gain was 3.5 per cent; the Pacific northwest, 3.4 per cent; intermountain states, 8.2 per cent.

Percentage gains for cities in the district were given as follows: Los Angeles, 0.3; Oakland, 13.8; San Francisco, 2.7; Seattle, 6.0; Spokane, 6.7; Salt Lake City, 7.4.

H. B. Teacher Loses Case Of Clothing

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Sept. 14.—Miss Helen Leavenworth, a school teacher, who lives at 306 Third street is minus a suitcase filled with clothing.

She put the case on the running board of a machine and drove about seven blocks. When she got to her destination, the suitcase was gone. She retraced her steps but was unable to find the missing clothing.

In telling local police of her loss, Miss Leavenworth described the case as being of brown leather with her name across the end.

HOLDINGS OF MUTUAL SOLD TO RICHFIELD

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Sept. 14.—One of the largest oil deals of the week reported in the local fields was the sale of the Mutual Refinery company's property to the Richfield company. The sale, which includes all of the Mutual holdings in Huntington Beach, marks the entrance into this field of the Richfield company.

The Mutual refinery, located at the corner of Garfield and Hampshire avenues, is situated on a 20 acre lease. The Richfield will take over the refinery at once. According to reports, the firm is making elaborate plans for expansion of the gasoline business here.

The Mutual company has been refining gasoline from oil purchased from a number of wells in the field. It is expected that the Richfield company will increase the gasoline output at once by the addition of several wells to their pipe lines.

BEACH GIRL MAKES TWO TRIPS ABROAD

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Sept. 14.—Two round trips from Huntington Beach to England is the experience of Elnora Lock, 11-year-old school girl here, who just returned from her second trip abroad with her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lock.

For the past three months, the girl has been taking in the sights in England and on the islands of Jersey and Guernsey. The trip was made especially to celebrate the golden wedding anniversary of Mrs. Lock's father and mother who are residents of Guernsey.

The two islands are members of the channel group owned by England. Although they are the property of the British Empire, the islands make their own coin and set their own standards. The coast lines of the islands are rugged and many beautiful bays are to be seen, according to Mr. and Mrs. Lock.

While on their trip, the Locks visited many points of interest, including Westminster Abbey. Little Miss Lock, who kept a diary on the entire trip, was especially impressed by the fact that in one hall of the Abbey, it was necessary to put on rubber shoes so that the floor of the room would not be scratched.

She was also attracted by the tall military hats worn by the guards in England. They are commonly called Busby hats, according to Lock, who stated that Miss Elneora called them "large black wigs" in her diary.

On her former trip to England about four years ago, Miss Lock was fortunate enough to see the king and queen of England.

Mr. Lock has made seven round trips across the Atlantic ocean. Mrs. Lock has crossed the Atlantic five times. The couple came to America about 15 years ago, and have lived in Huntington Beach more than 12 years.

Club Celebrates Finding of Flyers

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Sept. 14.—A resolution of gratitude and happiness over the finding of the lost American flyers was adopted at the meeting of the Rotary club here Friday.

Harry V. Anderson, club president, spoke to the members of the organization. The entire meeting was turned into a jubilee event to celebrate the safety of the Hawaiian flyers. Special music was rendered.

Star Officers To Advance Thursday

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Sept. 14.—Officers of the Eastern Star chapter here will advance at the next meeting, which will be held Thursday night at the Odd Fellows' hall. The various officers of the club will put on the work for the evening and demonstrate their qualifications for advancement.

SEE INCREASE IN H. B. SCHOOL ENROLLMENTS

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Sept. 14.—With more than 300 students already enrolled in the high school, school authorities are today expecting an increase in registration over the opening day last year. Exact figures on the registration Thursday and Friday could not be obtained early this morning as school officials were busy enrolling late arrivals.

The rapid growth of the school during the past several years, has however, caused a prediction to the effect that more than 400 students will enter the school this year. Last year, the total high enrollment was 373. In 1918, the school had an enrollment of 137, according to announcement by M. G. Jones, principal.

According to Jones, the school registration should keep up all week, as many people will be returning from belated vacation trips. A steady increase is expected during the year, and predictions are being made for a banner year next fall when school will open in the new high school.

The grammar school, which opened this morning with an attendance of more than 900 students, is also expected to increase its enrollment rapidly this week.

Clark H. Reid, superintendent of elementary schools here, has declared that more than 1000 pupils would be in the school this week. Last year, the highest mark was 1005. Increase in attendance during the year is expected to swell the elementary school attendance to nearly 1100.

A large increase in other grammar schools in the high school district is also expected, according to a recent survey of the territory. The grammar schools last year had a total enrollment of 2081. The annual average increase in all grammar schools for the past several years has been 328 students, it is shown.

ISSUE CALL FOR EXHIBITS AT FAIR

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Sept. 14.—A call for local exhibits for the Orange county fair at Santa Ana has been issued by the chamber of commere, according to announcement today by J. A. Armitage, secretary. Armitage is in charge of exhibits from this section and has asked that anyone in the Huntington Beach section notify him of anything that might be entered at the fair.

Industrial and commercial exhibits, farm products, and prize animals are expected to be entered from the country in and around this city. Several industrial firms, including the Huntington Beach Tank ompany, have signified their intentions of placing displays at the fair. The tank company will exhibit, among other things, two new buckets which have recently been manufactured by the firm. One is a huge oil can used for oil well machinery, and the other is a patent bucket used in picking peppers.

Farm displays from the Huntington Beach district hold almost unlimited possibilities, according to Armitage. He pointed out the large variety of both garden and field products which are raised in the surrounding territory. Several business houses are also planning commercial displays at the fair, according to Armitage.

FIRM BRINGS FIVE FAMILIES TO H. B.

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Sept. 14.—Five families have moved into this city during the past few weeks as the result of a new business started here. All five of the families are connected with the Huntington Beach Motors company, located in the new J. H. Macklin garage at Ocean avenue and Third street.

The E. H. Cookingham, J. H. McNulty, Omar Hill, J. E. Jordan and J. W. Hoyt families are the newcomers. All have located permanently in this city.

Skinny Men and Women Gain 5 Pounds in 30 Days or Money Back.

My dear Friends:

After my attack of Flu I was thin, run-down and weak. I had a sallow complexion, my cheeks were sunk in and I was continually troubled with gas on my stomach. I felt stuffy and had lost my appetite. I had read about McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets and decided to give them a trial. At once, I began to pick up an appetite, my cheeks filled out and my complexion became healtny looking and I gained 16 pouds in six weeks and am very thankful for what McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets did for me.

Miss Alberta Rogers, 264 W. Cerro Gorda St., Decatur, Ill.

To take on weight, grow strong and vigorous, to fill out the hollows in cheeks and neck, try McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets for 30 days. 60 Tablets—60 cents at White Cross Drug Co., C. S. EXPLORE TOMBS OF MOUND BUILDERS

CHILLICOTHE, O., Sept. 14.—Colorful costumes of 2000 years ago were found in the magnificent Pearl-strewn tombs of Mound Builders near here, Prof. H. C. Shetrone, curator of the Ohio museum, said today.

Knee-high royal tunics of intricate designs were found near four skeletons—probably two men and two women of royal lineage.

On the walls and floors are "more pearls than the United States will produce in a decade," Shetrone declared.

Over the skeletons was a huge canopy of logs, uprights and cross pieces over which a less permanent roof work had been built. The logs had rotted and turned to carbon, but were solid enough to be removed in large pieces.

Many tortoise shell ornaments were found in the ancient burial. All were intricately etched and polished, the prevalent design being those of birds.

The findings also indicated the dwellers who buried their dead in those tombs were peaceable. No weapons were found.

Westminster

WESTMINSTER, Sept. 14.—At the Odd Fellow's hall Tuesday evening, a sumptuous chicken supper marked the event of Mr. and Mrs. George B. Clough entering the Rebekah lodge here. After the initiation, the supper was served in the banquet hall at tables made lovely with many flowers.

$60,000 CHURCH TO BE ERECTED AT COSTA MESA

COSTA MESA, Sept. 14.—Plans for building a new $60,000 church building here have been approved by the official board of the Costa Mesa Community church. The new edifice is to be located on property owned by the church on Nineteenth street, between Newport boulevard and Fairview avenue.

The church board decided on the step when the offer of $7500 was accepted for the three lots on which the old church building now stands.

According to the provisions of the sale, the present building, located at Fairview avenue and Newport boulevard, must be moved in 60 days.

No definite construction program has been announced for the new church building but church officers said that the structure would be beautifully furnished and sufficiently large to care for the needs of the community for many years.

It is expected that the old church building will be moved to the site where the new church is to be erected. It is to be used until the $60,000 edifice is completed.

The lots where the church now is located were purchased by G. W. Nicholaus of Iowa. He announced no plans but it is said that he contemplates the building of a large brick business building on the location.

News Notes From Cypress

CYPRESS, Sept. 14.—The young folk, under the leadership of Miss Charlotte Bingham, gave a benefit entertainment at the school hall last night for the Cub baseball team. The entertainment was entirely of local home talent and was one of the best shown here for years. "A Girl to Order" was a playlet well acted and brought out many very amusing situations. A negro minstrel troupe next entertained and many of the local people were the basis of some very amusing jokes. Dot and Mae Bingham impersonated the "Gold Dust" twins and their dancing made a decided hit.

A newly organized orchestra furnished music for dancing after the entertainment. This orchestra bids fair to become one of the popular dance orchestras of north Orange counay. The personnel is: Roy Higgens, banjo; S. Harter, saxophone; Mae Priddy, piano, and H. Miles, drums.

A tidy sum was turned over to the Cub management.

C. L. Barnett and M. M. Carpenter comprise the Santa Barbara relief fund committee. They have met with a good response so far.

R. C. Cawthon has purchased two lots on South Lahoma street and will begin the erection of a modern residence soon. The deal was consummated through the Priddy & Sconce realty firm.

Ed Flader has purchased the M. Miller dairy herd. The herd numbers 18 choice dairy cows. Mr. Flader had 13 head and his late purchase will put him in a position to take care of his growing retail trade.

Arthur Pitts is erecting a residence on his property in Artesia, where he expects to move as soon as the home is completed.

Order Audit Of Books At Anaheim

ANAHEIM, Sept. 14.—Further steps towards modernizing all departments of the city administration were taken at a recent meeting of the board of trustees, when a general audit of the present bookkeeping system and the installation of a modern machine system was ordered.

J. W. Price reported that the present bookkeeping system is obsolete and that losses totaling many thousands of dollars yearly have occurred in the light and water departments all because of inefficient bookkeeping methods.

ANAHEIM CHIEF TO CUT STAFF ON OCTOBER 1

ANAHEIM, Sept. 14.—Two men are to be dropped from the Anaheim police force October 1, when plans of reorganization, announced today by Chief J. S. Martin, become effective.

The present strength of the force is 14 men, including the chief, but Martin declares that the city can be satisfactorily patroled and protected with the smaller force.

The position of desk sergeant will be abolished, the chief himself serving in this capacity. A new feature of the department as it is to be reorganized will be the delegating of one of the patrolmen to act as garbage inspector.

PERSONAL NOTES FOR TUSTIN FOLK

TUSTIN, Sept. 14.—Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Jackson and family of Petersburg, Ill., accompanied by Mrs. J. Votsmier and daughter, Virginia, of Franklin, Ill., are guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Preston. Mr. and Mrs. Jackson expect to make their home in Santa Ana.

NEW PLAN OF INSTRUCTION BEGINS TODAY

COST MESA, Sept. 14.—A record enrollment was predicted for the Costa Mesa school today by Principal Dale Evans. More than 300 students are expected.

For the first time, a system of departmental instruction will be started in the upper grades. Teachers are to give special instruction in certain fields.

Principal Evans expressed the belief that the school here would show a marked increase in enrollment this year.

GIRL LIFE GUARD ENTERS COLLEGE

NEWPORT BEACH, Sept. 14.—Miss Axia Goodykoontz, 18-year-old Newport Beach life guard, is going to go through college if she has to work her way.

She has left here to enter the University of California, Southern Branch, for her first year in college.

This summer, Axia was recommended by the city board of trustees for a Carnegie education endowment to reward her heroic action in diving to the bottom of the 20-foot channel in Newport bay in an attempt to save two drowned youths.

It was during the July holidays that the drowning accident occured. Axia was rushed to the scene but not soon enough to save the lives of the Stanford brothers.

The request that a fund be provided for the heroine to complete her college work is now before the Carnegie commission. Little hope is held out that the investigation can be completed in less than a year.

Until the educational fund is received, she will support herself by working while going to college. Already she has made arrangements for this year.

New El Modena Teacher Former Arizona Official

EL MODENA, Sept. 14.—Mrs. Kate B. Reynolds, the new teacher of the sixth and seventh grades at the Lincoln Grammar school here, led a very interesting life as county superintendent of Pima county, Arizona. She also was a member of the state board of education of Arizona for the past four years. In her work as county superintendent of schools, she had charge of 34 schools and 56 rural teachers. She says that her pupils were 90 per cent Mexicans, and a few Yaqui Indians from over the border. This tribe is not taken care of by the government. Mrs. Reynolds attended the state university at Tucson last semester and Berkeley this summer.

Bolsa

BOLSO, Sept. 14.—Louis Baeur is taking a ten days' vacation from the Bolsa store. With his family, he is spending a part of the time visiting relatives and friends.

A son was born Thursday at the Santa Ana Valley hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Glade Fuller of this place.

A beach picnic was enjoyed Tuesday by members of the Bolsa Sunday school at Huntington Beach. Twenty-five participated in the outing, which included a basket dinner.

Mrs. J. D. Shutt and granddaughter, Miss Esther Radford, returned Tuesday from Newport Beach, where they visited a friend, Mrs. S. N. Naylor. Mrs. Shutt was accompanied home by Mrs. M. C. Blackshade and little Betty Jean Blackshade.

Gerald Price went to Los Angeles, where Wednesday he registered at the California Christian college, which he will attend this term.

Mrs. George Harding and two young sons have returned from a visit of several days at Saugus, where they were guests of Mrs. Harding's brother and sister and their families.

Mrs. Earl Gardner and daughters spent Wednesday with the former's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John Shutt jr.

The Misses Bessie and Margaret Gardner entered high school at Garden Grove Monday.

Mrs. L. Bushere of Los Angeles has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Ave Ross this week.

The thresher belonging to Ed Chaffee and Roy Oldfield of Garden Grove began the season's threshing at the Frank Walker ranch Thursday. The majority of the local bean crops will be threshed by the Garden Grove outfit.

Mrs. Sterling Price and daughters, Shirley and Wilma, Mrs. John Willingham and daughter, Betty June, motored to Long Beach Wednesday, where Betty June remained with her aunt, Mrs. John Baker, for the day while the remainder of the party went in to Los Angeles.

Educators of the middle ages classed the seven liberal arts as grammar, dialetics, rhetoric, music, arithmetic, geomtry and astronomy.

The average life of an ant is from eight to ten years.

VISITS MEXICO

Whitefield Studio

Here is Miss Druzilla Mackey, head of the Americanization department of the Fullerton high school ,who has returned home after spending the summer in old Mexico.

HIGH SCHOOL TEACHER HOME FROM MEXICO

FULLERTON, Sept. 14.—Not only the unusual features of studying at the University of Mexico, but the added experiences of a stay among relatives of local Mexicans, are being described by Miss Druzilla Mackey, head of the Americanization department of the Fullerton Union High school, who has just returned from a summer's stay in old Mexico. With Miss Mackey was Miss Geneva Johnson, head of the Spanish department of the local high school, who made the trip south with her. Miss Arletta Klahn and Miss Martha Ehlen, teachers in the Spanish department under Miss Johnson, as well as Franklin Salveson were other local students at the university.

Miss Mackey had letters of introduction to Mrs. Shavez of Mexico City, a sister of Francisco Espanio, La Habra sculptor, whose statues she found in various churches of Mexico, and to friends of Mrs. Lyle Wickersheim, prominent Americanization worker in Los Angeles. She was entertained at many native homes, and learned much of the customs of the Mexican people. This knowledge she anticipates will be of great help to her in understanding the Mexican immigrants of this vicinity with whom she is associated.

Miss Mackey considers her trip to Guan Juato, a little mountain village near Mexico City, the most fascinating experience of her vacation. This little town has been described in many different ways, some visitors seeing in it a resemblance to the Holy Land, and others thinking it similar to Italy.

The village, says Miss Mackey, is built of tiny houses, one practically on top of the other. They are painted in vivid hues of pink and blue, and have tiled or thatched roofs. The public well is the only water system, and the natives carry jugs, which are beautiful pieces of pottery, to and from the well on their heads or shoulders. They are fond of bright colors and their shawls are very gay.

A weird journey to a cemetery high in the mountains, where bodies are placed in a vault for a period of five years, is recalled by the local traveler. At the end of the five years, the remains become petrified, according to Miss Mackey, and the relatives either continue to rent space in the vault for the departed, or dispose of them in some other way. Visitors go down a long passageway lighted by candles, into the crypt where a number of the ossified mummies are kept standing along the wall, like those Burns referred to in "Tom O'Shanter."

Miss Mackey's work as Americanization director in the Mexican camps of northern Orange county has been interesting and picturesque from its inception. She was engaged when the La Habra Citrus association decided that someone must live in the camp to prevent the many quarrels, strikes and even occasional murders which were keeping the Mexicans in a turmoil. Miss Mackey was then doing similar work in Los Angeles.

She found the La Habra camp unbelievably dirty and quarrelsome, with only two forks in the whole camp of some 600 people. Yards were filthy, children ill, and wives miserable. She first taught the women cleanliness, and later domestic science. The men were enrolled in the English classes, and proved as eager to learn as children.

So remarkable was the progress made under her supervision, that when Mexican Independence day approached, she declared herself capable of handling the situation which had previously taxed the resources of all available authorities. In spite of their warnings, she refused the assistance of deputies, and kept the camp quiet, the inhabitants enjoying a splendid fiesta for three days with no drunkenness or disturbance.

EXPECT 1600 ENROLLMENT AT ANAHEIM

ANAHEIM, Sept. 14.—School bells for the grammar school students of Anaheim rang this morning when the new fall term opened at all the city schools. Though registration count has not yet been completed, it is expected that a slight increase will be shown this year over last, according to Superintendent Melbourne A. Gauer. Whereas 1490 pupils were enrolled during the 1924-25 term, approximately 1600 are expected to be received this year.

The physical education department will be in charge of Samuel Ernest Luce, until recently connected with the University of Southern California, in place of Bruce Maxwell, of San Diego, as was previously announced. Mr. Maxwell had been appointed to the position but before his contract had reached him, signed a contract with a San Diego school.

Mr. Luce is a graduate of Heidelberg university of Tiffin, O., and has taken special work at Ohio State university. A much expanded physical program is planned for this year, Mr. Gauer announced this morning.

NEWPORT BEACH STUDENTS ENROLL

NEWPORT BEACH, Sept. 14.—Schools opened here today with the expectation that the record for enrollment would be passed. According to Horace Ensign, principal, preparations are being made to enroll more than 250 students.

The increased enrollment is declared to be due to the growth of the harbor district. Many improvements have been made this summer for the school term opening today.

La Habra

LA HABRA, Sept. 14.—Two outstanding features were in evidence at the first meeting of the new year for the Woman's club of La Habra. One was voting $25 for the Santa Barbara relief fund, and the other having Mrs. A. P. Nelson, county president of the Orange County Federation of Woman's club, as an honored guest at the luncheon and speaker for the meeting afterwards.

Mrs. Nelson, with a gracious personality, charmed her hearers. Her talk was informal but very instructive. She brought a message from the state convention, outlining the work as laid down by Dr. Bartola, state president. Quoting from the state chairmen, she brought home to the members the need of co-operation, harmony, kindness, personality and unity. She urged the club to work for the greater good of the individual, and above all, to obey all the laws, as only in that way could one be a good, American citizen. Much needed information in regard to future work and programs was gleaned by the club chairmen. Mrs. W. M. Snow presided.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Jackson, who have been visiting their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Sturdevant, of College avenue, and their son, Dr. W. E. Jackson, and family of Brea, left for their home in Fort Worth Texas, Wednesday. Prior to their departure, they were entertained at dinner at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Sturdevant. Sunday evening, a musical was given in their honor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Marston of Stewart station. Included in the group were Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Blair, Mr. and Mrs. Sturdevant and their parents and Dr. and Mrs. Jackson of Brea.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Walker of North La Habra Heights motored to Sacramento and attended the state fair. From there, they went to the ranch home of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Balcom, former residents of La Habra.

Clarence McBride, who has lived in La Habra for the past three years, surprised his friends by making a honeymoon tour of his vacation. Mr. McBride went home to Springdale, Ark., to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. A. McBride, and to enter into the bonds of matrimony with his school chum and sweetheart, Miss Blanch Camden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Camden of the home town. The ceremony was performed at the Methodist parsonage, Rev. I. Brumley reading the marriage lines. The young couple were attended by Miss Bernice Young and Clarence McBride. Afterwards a reception was held at the home of the bride. Mr. and Mrs. McBride left immediately for California. They will be at home on East Florence avenue. Mr. McBride is an employe of the Standard Oil company and is stationed at Santa Fe Springs.

J. D. Le Bard and Frank Le Bard and family, uncle and cousin of Mrs. Howard Ludy, surprised them Saturday. They motored down from Filmore and remained over the week end.

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Sept. 14.—Manufacturing machinery, valued at more than $80,000, and weighing more than 1000 tons, is scheduled to arrive at Orange county harbor in Newport Bay within the next few months, according to announcement by F. H. Yetman, president of the Rubber Products Company of America, who left recently for the east to purchase machinery for the company plant here.

Yetman will purchase the machinery in the east and ship it by water to Orange county harbor. The arrival of the machinery in the Orange county port will be a feather in the cap of harbor advocates, as it will be a big step toward the realization of a commercial harbor.

The rubber company, which has purchased the building and grounds formerly occupied by the California National Supply company, will start operations at once. Some machinery has already been installed. As soon as the new machinery arrives, the company will begin manufacturing to its full capacity to fill orders. A floor covering similar to linoleum will be made from old automobile tires. The company has perfected a process by which rubber and fabric in worn out tires may be utilized.

DEPUTY TO VISIT BEACH MACCABEES

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Sept. 14.—Mrs. Julie C. Ginn, deputy great commander of the Woman's Benefit Association of the Maccabees will be the guest of the local organization of the order next Wednesday, it was announced today. The visit of the state executive will be observed by a special program staged by the local group.

Installation of two officers and initiation of several new members of the lodge will be features of the meeting. Mrs. Mary E. Reed, junior commander, and Mrs. Rose Miller, sergeant, are the two officers to be installed.

The meeting will be held at the Antlers hall. A special committee has been placed in charge of a short program which will be given following the regular work.

LEGION POST TO TAKE IN MEMBERS

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Sept. 14.—Initiation of several new members and the laying of final plans for sponsoring a show at a local motion picture house will take place at the meeting of the American Legion, Joseph Rodman post No. 133, here tonight, it was announced today by Jack Robertson, commander.

The legion group will meet at the headquarters of the organization on Third street. Instructions will be given to delegates who will represent the ex-service men of this city at the convention at Catalina Island this month. Six delegates to the convention will leave tomorrow. The convention will be in session until Sept. 17. T. C. Vincent, James Ross, Herbert Gray, L. E. Mitchell, L. W. Blodget and Jack Robertson are the delegates.

J. D. Critton To Construct Home On Eighth Street

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Sept. 14.—Building permits jumped here today with the issuance of a permit to J. D. Critton, of this city, who will erect a handsome residence at 326 Eighth street. The building will be a five room affair and will cost $2500. I. C. Warner is the contractor.

Residences are much in demand here, according to city building inspector E. M. Billings. Last month permits were issued for the erection of seven new houses.

W. R. C. to Discuss Winter Activities

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Sept. 14.—Plans for the winter work of the Woman's Relief corps will be laid at a meeting of the organization in the Woman's clubhouse tomorrow afternoon. Mrs. Minnie Higgins, president of the group, will be in charge of the meeting. A special program has been arranged by a committee.

Retail Sales In Year Show Gain

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 14.—Retail trade conditions in the twelfth federal reserve district show uniform gains over sales of a year ago, according to a federal reserve bank statement.

Percentage gain for the district as a whole was 3.7. For California the gain was 3.5 per cent; the Pacific northwest, 3.4 per cent; intermountain states, 8.2 per cent.

Percentage gains for cities in the district were given as follows: Los Angeles, 0.3; Oakland, 13.8; San Francisco, 2.7; Seattle, 6.0; Spokane, 6.7; Salt Lake City, 7.4.

H. B. Teacher Loses Case Of Clothing

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Sept. 14.—Miss Helen Leavenworth, a school teacher, who lives at 306 Third street is minus a suitcase filled with clothing.

She put the case on the running board of a machine and drove about seven blocks. When she got to her destination, the suitcase was gone. She retraced her steps but was unable to find the missing clothing.

In telling local police of her loss, Miss Leavenworth described the case as being of brown leather with her name across the end.

HOLDINGS OF MUTUAL SOLD TO RICHFIELD

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Sept. 14.—One of the largest oil deals of the week reported in the local fields was the sale of the Mutual Refinery company's property to the Richfield company. The sale, which includes all of the Mutual holdings in Huntington Beach, marks the entrance into this field of the Richfield company.

The Mutual refinery, located at the corner of Garfield and Hampshire avenues, is situated on a 20 acre lease. The Richfield will take over the refinery at once. According to reports, the firm is making elaborate plans for expansion of the gasoline business here.

The Mutual company has been refining gasoline from oil purchased from a number of wells in the field. It is expected that the Richfield company will increase the gasoline output at once by the addition of several wells to their pipe lines.

BEACH GIRL MAKES TWO TRIPS ABROAD

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Sept. 14.—Two round trips from Huntington Beach to England is the experience of Elnora Lock, 11-year-old school girl here, who just returned from her second trip abroad with her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lock.

For the past three months, the girl has been taking in the sights in England and on the islands of Jersey and Guernsey. The trip was made especially to celebrate the golden wedding anniversary of Mrs. Lock's father and mother who are residents of Guernsey.

The two islands are members of the channel group owned by England. Although they are the property of the British Empire, the islands make their own coin and set their own standards. The coast lines of the islands are rugged and many beautiful bays are to be seen, according to Mr. and Mrs. Lock.

While on their trip, the Locks visited many points of interest, including Westminster Abbey. Little Miss Lock, who kept a diary on the entire trip, was especially impressed by the fact that in one hall of the Abbey, it was necessary to put on rubber shoes so that the floor of the room would not be scratched.

She was also attracted by the tall military hats worn by the guards in England. They are commonly called Busby hats, according to Lock, who stated that Miss Elneora called them "large black wigs" in her diary.

On her former trip to England about four years ago, Miss Lock was fortunate enough to see the king and queen of England.

Mr. Lock has made seven round trips across the Atlantic ocean. Mrs. Lock has crossed the Atlantic five times. The couple came to America about 15 years ago, and have lived in Huntington Beach more than 12 years.

Club Celebrates Finding of Flyers

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Sept. 14.—A resolution of gratitude and happiness over the finding of the lost American flyers was adopted at the meeting of the Rotary club here Friday.

Harry V. Anderson, club president, spoke to the members of the organization. The entire meeting was turned into a jubilee event to celebrate the safety of the Hawaiian flyers. Special music was rendered.

Star Officers To Advance Thursday

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Sept. 14.—Officers of the Eastern Star chapter here will advance at the next meeting, which will be held Thursday night at the Odd Fellows' hall. The various officers of the club will put on the work for the evening and demonstrate their qualifications for advancement.

SEE INCREASE IN H. B. SCHOOL ENROLLMENTS

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Sept. 14.—With more than 300 students already enrolled in the high school, school authorities are today expecting an increase in registration over the opening day last year. Exact figures on the registration Thursday and Friday could not be obtained early this morning as school officials were busy enrolling late arrivals.

The rapid growth of the school during the past several years, has however, caused a prediction to the effect that more than 400 students will enter the school this year. Last year, the total high enrollment was 373. In 1918, the school had an enrollment of 137, according to announcement by M. G. Jones, principal.

According to Jones, the school registration should keep up all week, as many people will be returning from belated vacation trips. A steady increase is expected during the year, and predictions are being made for a banner year next fall when school will open in the new high school.

The grammar school, which opened this morning with an attendance of more than 900 students, is also expected to increase its enrollment rapidly this week.

Clark H. Reid, superintendent of elementary schools here, has declared that more than 1000 pupils would be in the school this week. Last year, the highest mark was 1005. Increase in attendance during the year is expected to swell the elementary school attendance to nearly 1100.

A large increase in other grammar schools in the high school district is also expected, according to a recent survey of the territory. The grammar schools last year had a total enrollment of 2081. The annual average increase in all grammar schools for the past several years has been 328 students, it is shown.

ISSUE CALL FOR EXHIBITS AT FAIR

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Sept. 14.—A call for local exhibits for the Orange county fair at Santa Ana has been issued by the chamber of commere, according to announcement today by J. A. Armitage, secretary. Armitage is in charge of exhibits from this section and has asked that anyone in the Huntington Beach section notify him of anything that might be entered at the fair.

Industrial and commercial exhibits, farm products, and prize animals are expected to be entered from the country in and around this city. Several industrial firms, including the Huntington Beach Tank company, have signified their intentions of placing displays at the fair. The tank company will exhibit, among other things, two new buckets which have recently been manufactured by the firm. One is a huge oil can used for oil well machinery, and the other is a patent bucket used in picking peppers.

Farm displays from the Huntington Beach district hold almost unlimited possibilities, according to Armitage. He pointed out the large variety of both garden and field products which are raised in the surrounding territory. Several business houses are also planning commercial displays at the fair, according to Armitage.

FIRM BRINGS FIVE FAMILIES TO H. B.

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Sept. 14.—Five families have moved into this city during the past few weeks as the result of a new business started here. All five of the families are connected with the Huntington Beach Motors company, located in the new J. H. Macklin garage at Ocean avenue and Third street.

The E. H. Cookingham, J. H. McNulty, Omar Hill, J. E. Jordan and J. W. Hoyt families are the newcomers. All have located permanently in this city.

Miss Rogers Gained 15 Pounds in Six Weeks

Skinny Men and Women Gain 5 Pounds in 30 Days or Money Back.

My dear Friends:
After my attack of Flu I was thin, run-down and weak. I had a sallow complexion, my cheeks were sunk in and I was continually troubled with gas on my stomach. I felt stuffy and had lost my appetite. I had read about McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets and decided to give them a trial. At once, I began to pick up an appetite, my cheeks filled out and my complexion became healthy looking and I gained 15 pouds in six weeks and am very thankful for what McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets did for me.

CONSTITUTION WEEK

The purpose "to re-establish the Constitution in the minds and hearts of the people" is significant. It implies that both knowledge and appreciation of the Constitution have faded from public consciousness. This is largely too true, and a national calamity. The Constitution was framed out of the best judgment of a body of the wisest men in that period of world history. It is a written summation of the deepest convictions resultant from centuries of longings, feelings and aspirations for the greatest blessings and ideals that ever emanated from the mind and heart of mankind.

For the first time in the history of government, provision was made for the ample enjoyment of freedom under law. It marked an entirely new era in political relationships. It legally permitted the freedom of opportunities and a larger participation in the benefits of government than ever had been accorded to any nation. After eighteen months of public and private deliberation, argument and analytical consideration of every phase of its provisions, the Constitution was ratified, and within five years from its adoption, placed the United States upon a basis of prosperity and happiness which has no parallel in human experience.

During the first seventy-five years of the practical application of representative government, it was a household word throughout the land. The more it was studied, the greater the appreciation it sustained. It was gratefully accepted and valued. Then began a period of more than half a century during which it faded from general consideration.

Once more it has become the center of public interest and concern. The abnormal and unstable conditions of world affairs have made us keenly sensitive to the necessity of upholding the stability of our government. We are passing from a state of indifference into a revived sense of regard for the Constitution as the one only assurance of safety from fatal theories seeking to substitute themselves in place of what has been tried and proven as the sanest form of government ever known.

The more the Constitution is understood, the more it will be appreciated and the more determined will be the resolution to uphold it against encroachment from within and from without.

WOULD MAKE IT STATEWIDE

Quoting an editorial in which The Register contended that there should be a law prohibiting the killing of quail in Orange county for a period of three or four years the Riverside Press wants to extend protection of that kind over the entire state.

"Why limit this protection to Orange county?" asks The Press.

"In Riverside county and all over the state," says The Press in answer to its own question. "The shy and beautiful quail is rapidly becoming extinct. Possibly a closed season for a period of years would at least result in the saving of enough quail so that motorists would see a flock occasionally. Breeding places have become so scarce that only limited results could be hoped for from absolute prohibition of hunting; but it would be worth while to make the experiment; and the action should be not by county ordinances but by a state law."

CHEAPER OR BETTER

For many years Henry Ford has gone on the principle that what the American people wanted was cheaper cars. He made them as cheap as possible, lowering his prices over and over again, as his genius for manufacturing and merchandising lowered the costs of production. And apparently he was right. He has made hundreds of millions out of this policy.

All at once Mr. Ford reverses the policy. He has arrived at a stage where, as a result of new economies and larger market, he could lower prices again if he wanted to. Instead, he continues established prices but improves the product. Recent announcements have told of a set of changes in color, form and functioning which almost revolutionizes the best known vehicle in the world. The flivver is expected to look much better, and run better.

Henry Ford is regarded as a typical American. And here, as somebody remarks, is a significant indication of a new attitude in America. It is a better appreciation of artistic values along with material values. The American public has come to demand better products as well as cheaper products, and if both are not possible, to prefer them better rather than cheaper. Esthetics practically applied to the humble flivver may be considered a very hopeful sign.

MEXICAN FINANCE

A new bank is established at Mexico, comparable to our Federal Reserve bank. It will operate as a national bank, with $50,000,000 capital, of which the government furnishes 51 per cent and Mexican bankers the rest.

It is going to go very slow in issuing paper, "because the Mexican public distrusts that kind of money," wherein it is wiser than some European national banks have been. Eventually, as workmen grow accustomed to paper, the issue will be increased until the gold coverage is 33 per cent.

This is a conservative program, and therefore pleasing to Mexico's friends and creditors. No less notable is the refusal to accept any help from outside. All of the bank's capital is Mexican. This bespeaks not only a wholesome national pride but a reassuring state of finance. The more self-reliant Mexico is in money matters, the better Americans will like it.

NORTHERN TROPICS

There has long been current in the Canadian Northwest a tradition of a tropical valley in northern British Columbia. Now, it is reported, two aviators have penetrated the wilderness, prospecting for gold, and have actually come upon such a valley. Giant ferns, lush grass, blooming flowers, and a patch of potatoes and onions planted a year ago by another prospector, greeted their sight.

There isn't anything mysterious about this valley. It isn't a left-over from ancient days when the far north is said to have had a tropical climate. The valley is warmed from below, not from above. It is full of hot springs which send clouds of steam up into the air, warming the whole sheltered region and supplying it with abundant moisture for vegetation.

Now it is up to someone to discover a self-refrigerating valley down in the torrid zone.

The Texas Judge

San Diego Union

The viewpoint which Judge William H. Atwell of Texas has brought to his duties upon the federal bench in New York City is said to be arousing much interest among students of courts and criminals. Judge Atwell has the habit, he says, of regarding the prisoner at the bar as a "customer for justice," and he aims to satisfy all customers. Each prisoner—or "customer"'—must be treated as an individual, not as one of a type or class, and each must leave the court with the conviction that he has been fairly treated. This is Judge Atwells' ideal, and he expreses it freely and in homely terms to the men who come before him as defendants.

Two things should be said about this story of Judge Atwell. In the first place, Atwell's viewpoint is warm, human and friendly without being sentimental. It is therefore commendable. In the second place, it is by no means unique. It is receiving attention from New Yorkers because it has been imported from "the provinces" and put to work in a crowded court where the pressure of affairs has made all too much routine, haste and cold formalism the rule. There are a great many other judges upon the bench who most surprisingly preserve a human understanding despite the overcrowded calendars and the constant contact with deceit and quibbling

This judicial attitude does not represent the last word in the wisdom of the courts, but it is greatly preferable to cold insistence upon the letter of the statute—a guide which can so often be evaded or broken by the clever efforts of persons paid for that sort of service. Judge Atwell and others like him see the essential idea in court procedure—that of justice to individual human beings and to the society which they have offended. They are likely, therefore, to exercise the discretion given them in a fair and constructive manner. The judge's opinions about crime and criminals, however, are open to question. A steadily growing body of facts is being gathered to contradict those opinions.

Let it be understood that this evidence is not yet conclusive; but extensive "case-work" to date tends to prove that criminals who habitually break the law—the "repeaters" who form the great bulk of the nation's criminal problem—are persons not entirely normal in their mental make-up. The human, man-to-man attitude of such judges as Mr. Atwell is therefore not wholly effective with them—that is, while it may "satisfy" them and convince them that there is fair treatment and substantial justice to be found in the courts of law, it does nothing to modify their future conduct. It does not aid them to "reform," because it does not reach the abnormal, perverted characteristics from which their conduct springs.

This is by no means a new idea, but it has not yet been reflected to any considerable extent by our criminal statutes, nor in our court procedure. It has convinced many thoughtful people that our present methods are largely unreasonable and as ineffective as they appear to be; but it has not yet advanced to the stage where it can be taken as the basis for a recognization of court customs.

Until the present trend of evidence comes to a conclusive point, therefore, the present machinery for dealing with crime is all that we have; and what justice is possible under it is largley the result of the humanity and intelligence of the men who administer it. Therein is the value of judges like Mr. Atwell of Texas.

SLEEP IS ESSENTIAL TO THE YOUNG CHILD

The prime essentials of baby life are air, nourishment and sleep. Sleep is by no means the least important matter for you to consider in connection with the health of your baby. A normal baby in good health can be trusted to manage his own sleeping program to the best advantage but when abnormal conditions exist mothers should know how to meet these conditions and how to be able to correct conditions and secure the proper amount of sleep for the infant.

During the first two weeks of life a healthy baby will sleep nearly all of the time. He will wake only long enough to nurse. During the second month a healthy baby should sleep about twenty hours out of the twenty-four.

To carry a child into a room which is brightly lighted is not the best method to employ in putting the child to sleep. If your baby goes to sleep in a room flooded with light it has developed the power of habit for it has been demonstrated that releasing the sense of sight to sleep is most difficult under such conditions. Any baby will sleep best in a dimly lighted or dark room. Your baby has a right to sleep free from binding clothes in a properly ventilated room, out of drafts. Quiet is also important. These are ideal sleeping conditions that should be guaranteed to every baby.

Many mothers do not know that nervous children may be often lulled to sleep more quickly if the mother's hand rests on the crib or bed. This touch of a mother's hand has a reassuring effect upon the baby.

Not all mothers appreciate the fact that an odor will act as a potent disturber of sleep. A mild odor will not always waken a child but most children will display restlessness when odors are present in a seeping room or are brought into close proximity to the sleeper. Even an odor of perfume may cause vomiting on the part of the baby, especially if the baby's stomach is not in good order.

Another frequent cause of sleeplessness is hunger. Most babies will not sleep until hunger has been satisfied and although regularity in feeding is of the utmost importance, a little milk given sometimes off schedule does less harm than the sleeplessness and fretting which baby experiences while waiting for the scheduled feeding time. Mothers should be careful, however, to use good judgment in this matter in order that the habit of feeding at off hours may not be developed. In case the baby shows an unusual appetite and a desire for food at off schedule times a doctor should be consulted.

All mothers should know that an overheated room will operate as effectively in keeping baby awake as it will in producing sleeplessness in a grown-up. Fresh air and plenty of it during sleep are just as vitally important requisites for the health of your baby as they are for you. Drugs of any kind should never be given to children except on the advice of a physician.

There is another mistake which is made by many well meaning parents simply because they are prompted by love for their child or do not realize the seriousness of the mistake which they are making or are living in such poverty as to be unable to avoid it. This mistake consists in allowing a baby or a child to sleep with adults. It is bad enough for two people of about the same age and physical condition to occupy the same bed but for a child, especially if the child is not strong, to sleep in the same bed with a grown person and sleep there night after night is harmful. In fact, children should sleep alone if possible.

There are some mothers who believe that the younger the child the less air space in sleeping quarters will that child require. Consequently the younger children are given the smallest sleeping quarters. This is a mistake and a very serious one, for the need of fresh air is as marked in the growing child as in the adult.

Nation of Savings Accounts Good Sign

San Bernardino Sun

According to bank statistics a radical change has come over the habits of the American people. We have always been called the least thrifty in the world. We make money easily and we spend it with a lavish hand. The proverbial rainy day has received less consideration from Americans than from any of the peoples from whom we derive our parent stock. France in particular has always been held up to us as a model. Savings accounts in France before the war—and perhaps at present also—were said to be held by a greater percentage of the people than in any other country, far greater than in America. The war must have taught us something as to future possibilities. It is generally held responsible for the present jazz spirit and recklessness, but the savings banks tell a different story. When the war began savings accounts totaled but 10 per cent of commercial accounts. Today they are 40 per cent of the total. In California they are 50 per cent, due, probably, to the large immigration and the accounts placed on deposit pending investment.

We seem to have learned the lesson of provision for the future, and an extremely valuable lesson it is. Such provision not only makes less to be dreaded the time when a period of unemployment may come, but it makes less likely the arrival of such a period. The more money there is in savings accounts the more the banks will have for loaning to legitimate enterprises, which tend to prevent unemployment.

But that is not all. This saving increase is being reflected in home building. More than half a billion contracts were let in July for construction and more than three billion during the first seven months of this year. Of this vast sum 42 per cent was for residential purposes. This means that more citizens than ever before feel sufficiently prosperous to venture upon the building of homes. Every savings account and every home is a guaranty of good democratic government and stability of conditions. They are a mighty conservative influence. We are headed in the right direction when we multiply them.

Worth While Verse

THE FIRST TEMPLES

The groves were God's first temples. Ere man learned
To hew the shaft, and lay the architrave,
And spread the roof above them—ere he framed
The lofty vault, to gather and roll back
The sound of anthems; in the darkling wood,
Amid the cool and silence, he knelt down,
And offered to the Mightiest solemn thanks
And supplication. For his simple heart
Might not resist the sacred influences
Which, from the stilly twilight of the place,
And from the gray old trunks that high in heaven
Mingled their mossy boughs, and from the sound
Of the invisible breath that swayed at once
All their green tops, stole over him and bowed
His spirit with the thought of boundless power
And inaccessible majesty. Ah, why
Should we, in the world's riper year, neglect
God's ancient sanctuaries, and adore
Only among the crowd, and under roofs
That our frail hands have raised? Let me, at least,
Here, in the shadow of this aged wood,
Offer one hymn—thrice happy, if it find Acceptance in His ear.

—William Cullen Bryant.

HOME TALENT

Hal Cochran's DAILY POEM

The evening meal is over and the family's ill at ease. To break the spell of quiet, sister's drumming o'er the keys. The old piano's tinny and the notes are kinda flat, but strains of Ol' Virginny and the like sound good, at that.

Dad gets to feelin' tuneful, as his fav'rite songs are played. He takes his old mouth organ and he joins the serenade. While mother, at her sewin,' now and then suggests a song and as they turn to playin' it, she's hummin' right along.

It isn't long till cousin starts her fiddle in to squeak. She frankly tells them all she hasn't practiced for a week. Then brother Bill adds vigor to the rhythm of the tune by joinin' with the fam'ly on his tenor saxophone.

The neighbors sit in silence as they lend a willing ear. There's something quite appealing in the music that they hear. A family joined together is a gath'ring hard to beat. Perhaps it's just that thought that makes the sourest tune so sweet.

Library Progress in This State Praised

Sacramento Bee

An interesting article on the public libraries of America appears in Scribner's Magazine for September, from the pen of John M. Mitchell, a British expert, who is secretary of the Carnegie United Kingdom Trust and a member of the departmental committee on public libraries of England and Wales.

This was written after a tour of the United States, and is of especial interest to this state because of appreciative mention of what has been accomplished in California.

The visitor, a student of library policy, frankly admits the American system seems to be in advance of its British counterpart, whose great weakness, he says, is its lack of systematic coordination. Furthermore, he adds, the British system lacks the "invaluable inter-loan system," through which serious works of one library may be borrowed by another.

After describing the progress made in the United States in this regard, Mitchell says he was interested chiefly in the evolution of the county library system, ten years older in this country than in Great Britain. This, he remarks, has in at least one state advanced to a high degree of efficiency. This state is, of course, California, where the system devised by the farsighted Mr. Gillis is developing under the devoted and skillful management of Mr. Milton J. Ferguson (who succeeded the late James L. Gillis as state librarian).

In California there are two or three features which specially call for admiration. One is filled with amazement at the remoteness of many of the local centers.

Books are taken on packanimals to lonely schools on the roadless Pacific slopes, to mining villages high up in the Sierra canyons, to small clubs far away from railroads and ordinary lines of motor transport.

The same writer proceeds to praise the "loan system" in California, under which, as he explains, the state library in Sacramento acts for the state as the library of congress does for the nation.

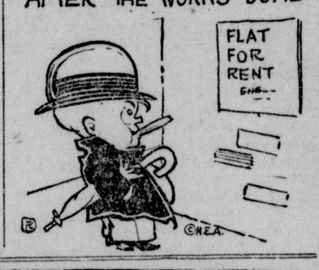

A third feature of our state system he commends is the "wise policy adopted by small-town library boards of entering into integral relations with the county scheme."

All Mitchell's commendation of what has been accomplished in this state, and especially by the state library here, is well deserved and should be highly gratifying to California readers.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

by Olive Roberts Barton

NO. 19—HUNTING THE SHIP'S CLOCK

"Where to next?" asked the Twins.

"Out to sea," said Tick Tock, the clock fairy.

"What!" fairly shrieked Nancy and Nick in their surprise.

"That's what I said," grinned Tock. "Out to sea."

"But where shall we find any clocks on the sea?" asked Nick.

"Where do you suppose?" remarked the fairy. "On a big ship, of course. If you really want to know it, ships have more uses for clocks almost than any other thing, except railroad trains. If it hadn't been for ships needing something to tell time by, I don't suppose clocks would have been invented when they were."

"What ship are we going on?" asked Nancy, who was beginning to get excited.

"On a ship called 'La Paloma' that brings coffee from South America and sugar from Cuba for the people in the United States to use," said Tick Tock.

"Is the clock broken?" asked Nick.

"Sort of—at least it had a bump and won't go properly. Something went wrong with a lighthouse on some of the Florida reefs and the ship struck a rock. It didn't hit it very hard, only sideways, and so not much harm was done. But things were knocked about."

"I suppose the clock fell down," said Nancy.

"No, sir! Not a ship's clock," said Tick Tock. "Not only are they shaped so that they cannot fall over, but they are fastened tight so that nothing but an ax could loosen them. And the works are arranged in such a way that the swinging motion of the boat does not affect them even in a storm. But come, we will have to be using our magic shoes or we shall never get there."

But arriving at the dock they discovered that the "La Paloma" was not there. they looked along at all the big boats in the line, but no "Paloma."

"Oh, I know!" said Tick Tock. "I suppose they have her in dry dock."

"What's dry dock?" asked Nick.

"Questions—always questions," laughed Tick Tock. "But that's all right. That is the way to find out about things. A dry dock is a big place near the edge of the water, where they run the boat up on wheels right out of the water. The boat sits up on a sort of high rack so that every part shows. If she has had an accident, then the men can get at it to fix it up. They can't fix up a boat as long as she is in the water. I suppose the 'La Paloma' has had a bad scrape and needs some new boards and iron to repair her. Yes, sir! I was right. Here is the dry dock and there is the boat we are looking for, sitting like a lady in a dentist's chair. The men are all gone, so we can slip up this rope ladder and get on her deck. Then we can hunt up the room where the captain stays and where the clock is and the log is kept."

"The what?" cried the Twins.

Tick Tock laughed again. "The log. That's a sort of ship's diary where they put down everything that happens each day," he said. "Every boat keeps a log. It is very important.

"Here we are at the captain's cabin now."
